To Pirate Jym, Jr.

This letter I am writing is the key to the wondrousse treasurr I have found. If it is lost — the rest is meaningless. So guard it well and allow no one to reade it except the man who brynge it to you and who is a close relatione of ours. His name is Diamond Jym, Jr. (on the Brady side of the familye) and he is a man who can be trussted to brynge home the Salomey (that's Yokum for bacon).

Your fyrst steppe after you get thys — you will sail thro the Bananama Canal — then NNW to New Oreleans and up the mighty Mrsippi to a branche of this river — known as Brushe Creeke. On top of a hill on the banke is a castle. You will approach thys building, pay homage to the flagge and enter the main door. When no one can catch sight of you, slyp into the office and you will find further instructions in the byg cloeke in the corner. So, hopyng — this falls not into straynge hands, I leave you..... Pirate Jym, Sr.

Dear Mary Jane,
Have more fun than you can stand during the coming years and remember me
sometimes.

Dear Mary Jane!
We have known each other for a long time, had alot of fun and some little scraps, all in fun. It has been my wish that our friendship will always continue and the we will be alot of each other in the future. It is been a pleasure to be with you many times and I hope we have with you many times and I hope we have more. I think you and Lloyd make a grand couple as you. Don't ever break up.

Lots of Love

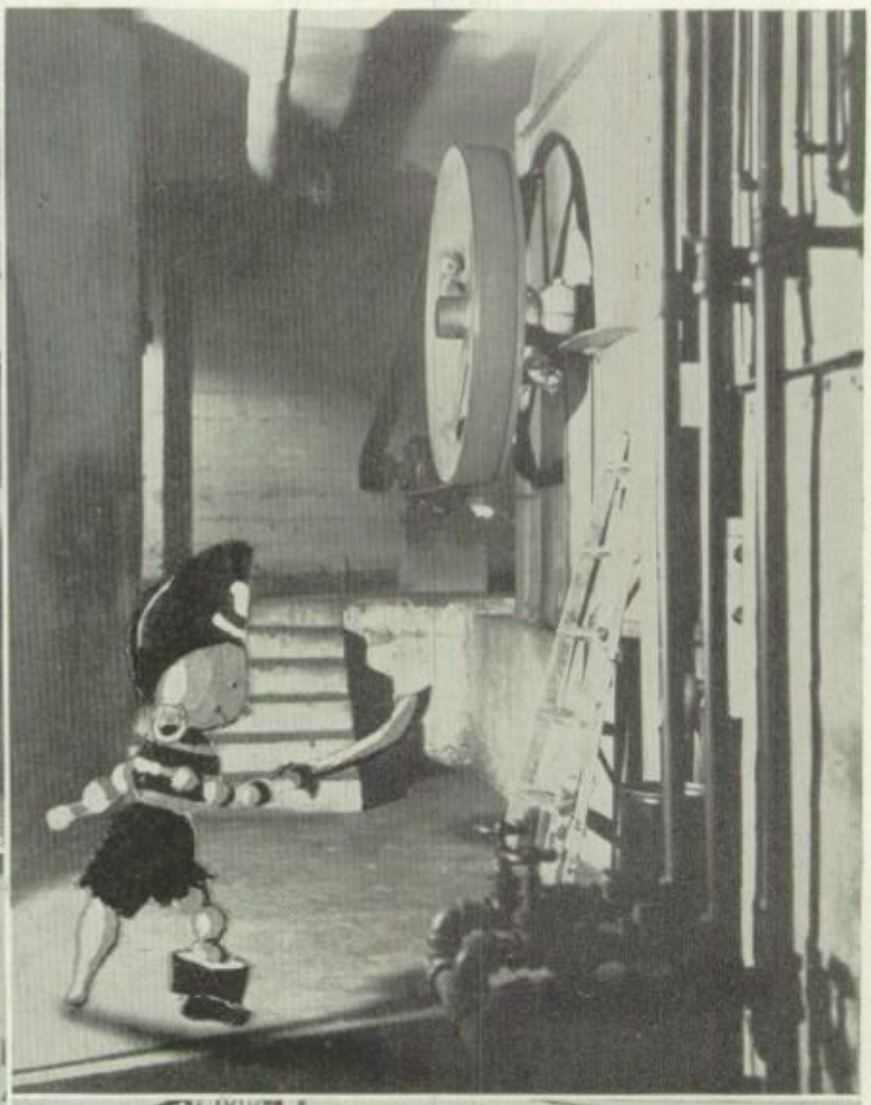
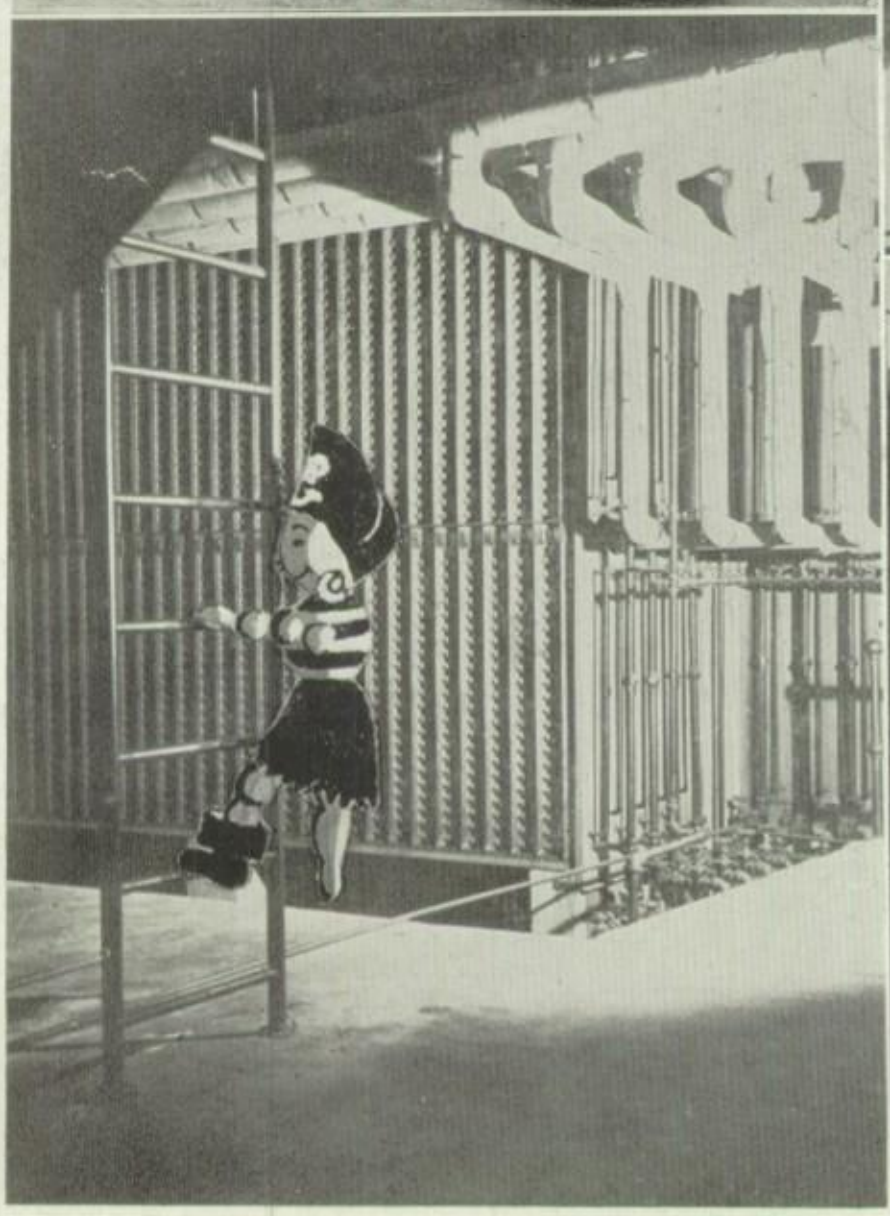
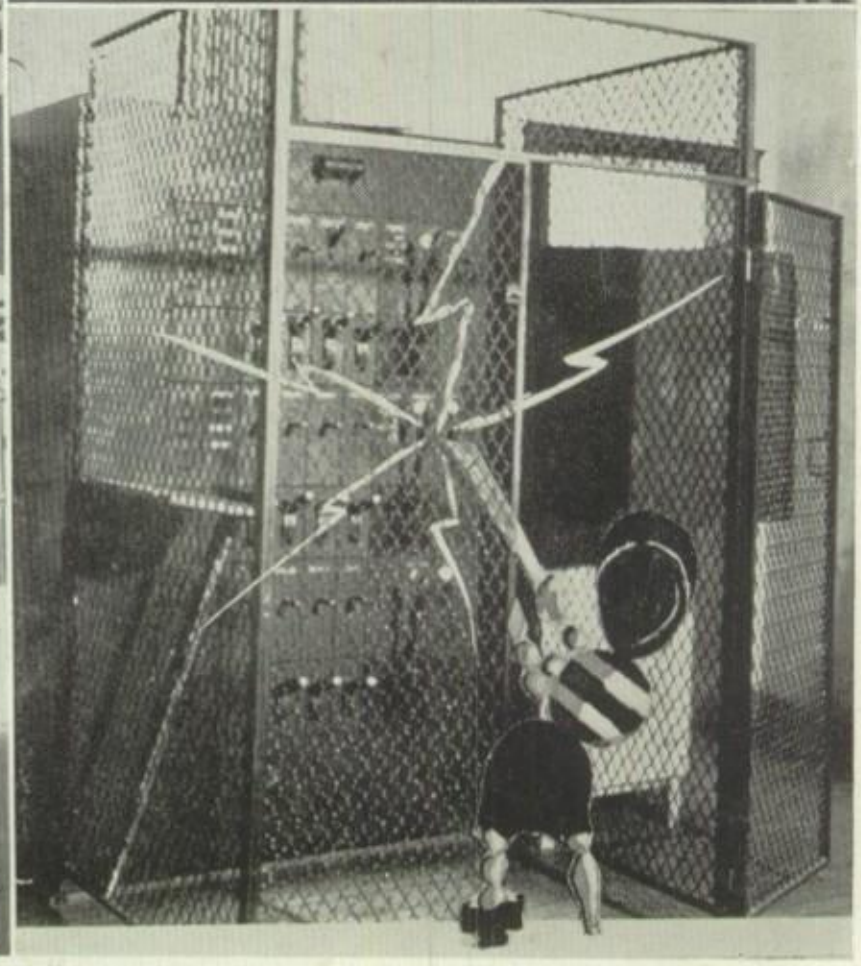
KANSAS CITY,

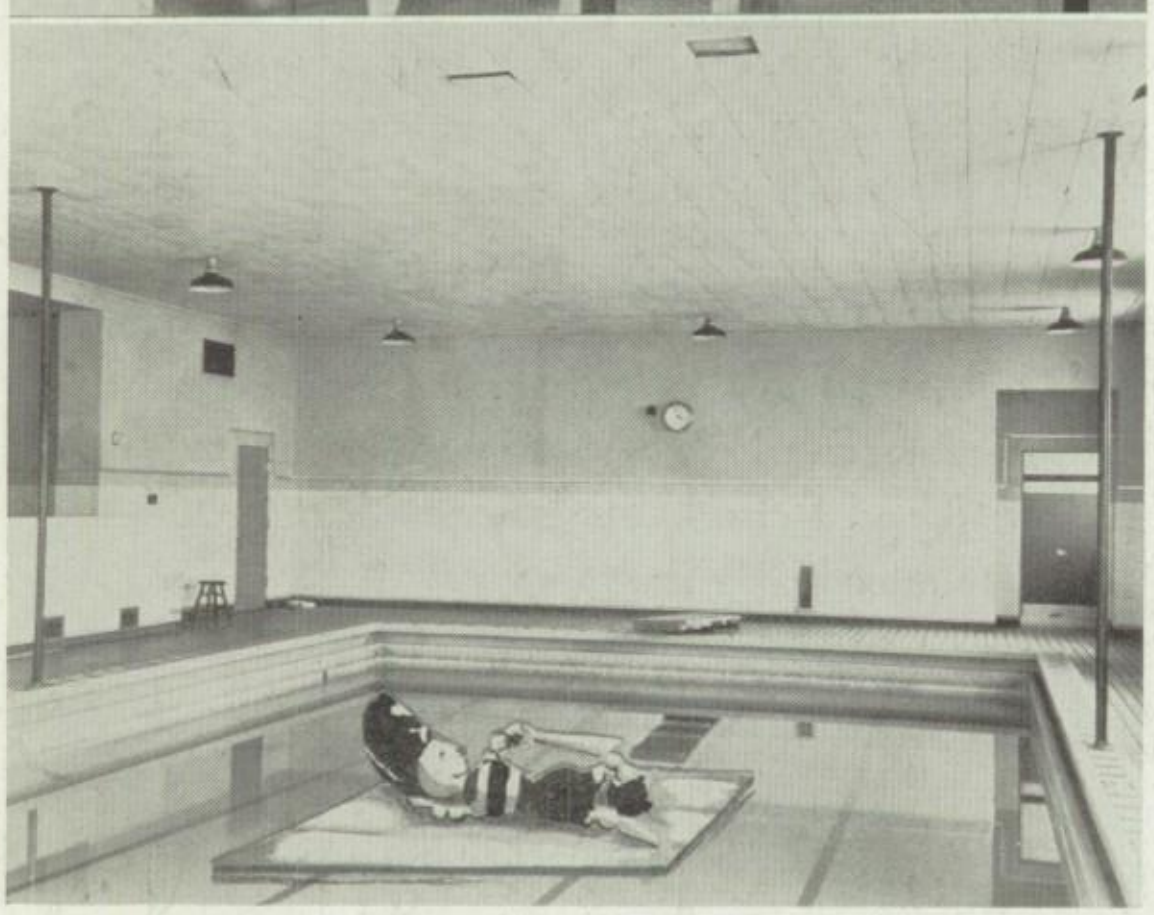
MISSOURI

I SIGHT LAND . . .









Let me introduce myself, I am Pirate Jym, Jr. Having received pater's letter I hastened to the spot the letter indicated, so as to be full recipient of the wondrous treasure my pater bequeathed me. In other words, I grabbed the swag before any bloody bloke could beat me to it. I hopped into my Diesel yatch and beat it across the Pacific, then followed the other directions until I came to the hill on the bank of Brushe Creeke and prepared to hunt for treasure. I got out my trusty spade (which I had leaned into a curve when I worked on the W.P.A.) and started to work. Then I remembered the treasure was not gold nor silver but an immense building filled with eager students with high ideals and overflowing with good-fellowship and high scholastic ability (until the best it had got killed off when they took the aptitude test.) Then I jumped up to the top of the flag pole to get a better view of the school and, peeking over the top of the building, I saw the football field on the other side, so I hopped over the building to inspect it. My directions were to find a clue in a clock so I started out to find said clock. After inspecting the outside of the building I entered the front door (even though it was locked) and observing a cubbyhole on the left as I entered I went over to inspect it. Whatever it is used for they oughter get a new one because it's no bigger than a katydid's shoestring. Keeping to the left, I walked around the first floor and entered all the rooms searching for the clue, but somewhere I must have taken the wrong turn because I started going down, down, and it kept getting spookier as I went. I passed furnaces, coils, ventilators, climbed a ladder, took a ride on a belt wheel and all in all got utterly confused. I just couldn't find my way out, so I decided to crawl up a ventilator. Well, I crawled and I crawled. I wore my peg-leg down to a toothpick. But I finally came out on top of the building, where I was just about a half an hour ago. I whisked through a window without bothering to raise it, and lit on an icebox. Inside was a huge Dagwood sandwich and I lost no time in getting started on it. I was still munching on it when I got back down to the second floor and must have taken another wrong turn because before I knew it I was half-drowned in a pool the size of lake Souperior. In other words, I was in the soup. But lucky for me there was a raft in the middle of this pool. Well, I finally got out, dried my clothes and got started again. On my way down to the first floor I screwed up enough courage to slide down the banister. More dog-gone fun!!! Only thing wrong, I bashed my head on the wastebasket across the hall. Turning to the left, I came to the only room in the school that I hadn't peeked into, and sure enough the clock with the clue in it was in this very room.

Dearest Mary Jane,
You're really one
grand girl. I only wish I could be together
next best of sincere

Lots of luck etc.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council encourages and fosters the interests and activities of the school as a whole by emphasizing the immediate interests and activities of the separate departments. It aids in creating public opinion in the homeroom through discussions. The students' opinions are then presented to the council by the representatives.

The officers for the first and second semesters were: president, Bob McPherson and Bob Peake; vice-president, John Orear and Warren Hyten; secretary, Marjorie Ramey; treasurer, Bill Ragle and Marian Montgomery; sergeant-at-arms, Bob Smith and John Reber. The executive board members for the first semester were Mary Goodwin, Warren Hyten, seniors; Fanny Leitnaker, Ray Bowen, juniors; Lorraine Jordan, Robert Miller, sophomores; Marietta Marshall, Albert Goller, freshmen. Second semester executive board members were Mary Tuley, Bob Dafforn, seniors; Pat Clark, Blake Baird, juniors; Winifred Shields, Norman Royer, sophomores; Charlene McPheeters, Elwyn Cady, freshmen.

TRAFFIC SQUAD

Again this year, as always in the past, traffic was smoothly directed through the corridors and cafeteria of Paseo by the Traffic Squad. This organization is unique, being the only one of its kind in Kansas City. Members are nominated from the junior and senior boys by the student body and elected by the faculty. Selections are based on the qualities of character and leadership, scholarship being entirely eliminated. It is felt that many boys are both deserving and capable of handling the responsibility who do not have a high scholastic standing. Although it is a distinct honor to wear the Traffic Squad badge, there are also many obligations. Members must sacrifice their study periods and spend that time on duty. Any member breaking the rules of the school is forced by his honor to resign. At various intervals during the year the members are guests of the cafeteria at lunch. The officers, appointed by Mr. Shepherd, were: general, Bob Luder; captains, Bob McPherson and Bill Ragle; lieutenants, Bob Smith, Dewey Ellis, and George Cramer. Mr. Shepherd is the faculty adviser.

Assemblies . . .

Under the direction of Mrs. Lottie Reber, physiology teacher, Paseo's assemblies reached a new high both in frequency and variety of entertainment.

For the fourth consecutive year they were begun with the impressive and magnificent Freshman Induction Ceremony, which presented to the incoming Freshman Class, the ideals of our school.

Football, Coach Selvidge, and the Team had the leads in the first regular assembly. Mr. Crocker also made his piano playing debut assisted by Mr. H. M. Jenks.

Dr. Roy A. Burkhart, pastor of the Community Church at Columbus, Ohio; Dr. Herold C. Hunt, superintendent of schools; Mr. Notra Cooperider, who spoke at the Armistice Day program; and Rabbi Samuel Mayerberg, guest speaker at the National Honor Society Induction, were several of the lecturers and speakers in our assemblies. H. Roe Bartle's stirring speech will long be remembered by those who heard him in the Boy Scout assembly.

At Christmas time, the music department presented the pageant, "Why the Chimes Rang." The Press, the Latin, the English, and the History departments also presented their various programs.

The second annual Outdoor Assembly, given by the R. O. T. C. battalion, was held early in the fall.

Novelty was the keynote for the other assemblies of the year. Under this heading came several all-school sings, the Auto Club's mock political convention, the Pepperade teaser, a genuine hill-billy band, and H. B. Watts and his dummy, Skeeter.

Toward the end of the year came the Boy Scout presentation, the Fashion Show, the National Honor Society Induction and as a climax, the Senior Assembly.

Mrs. Reber and the many other teachers who co-operated to give us such fine entertainment deserve our keen appreciation.

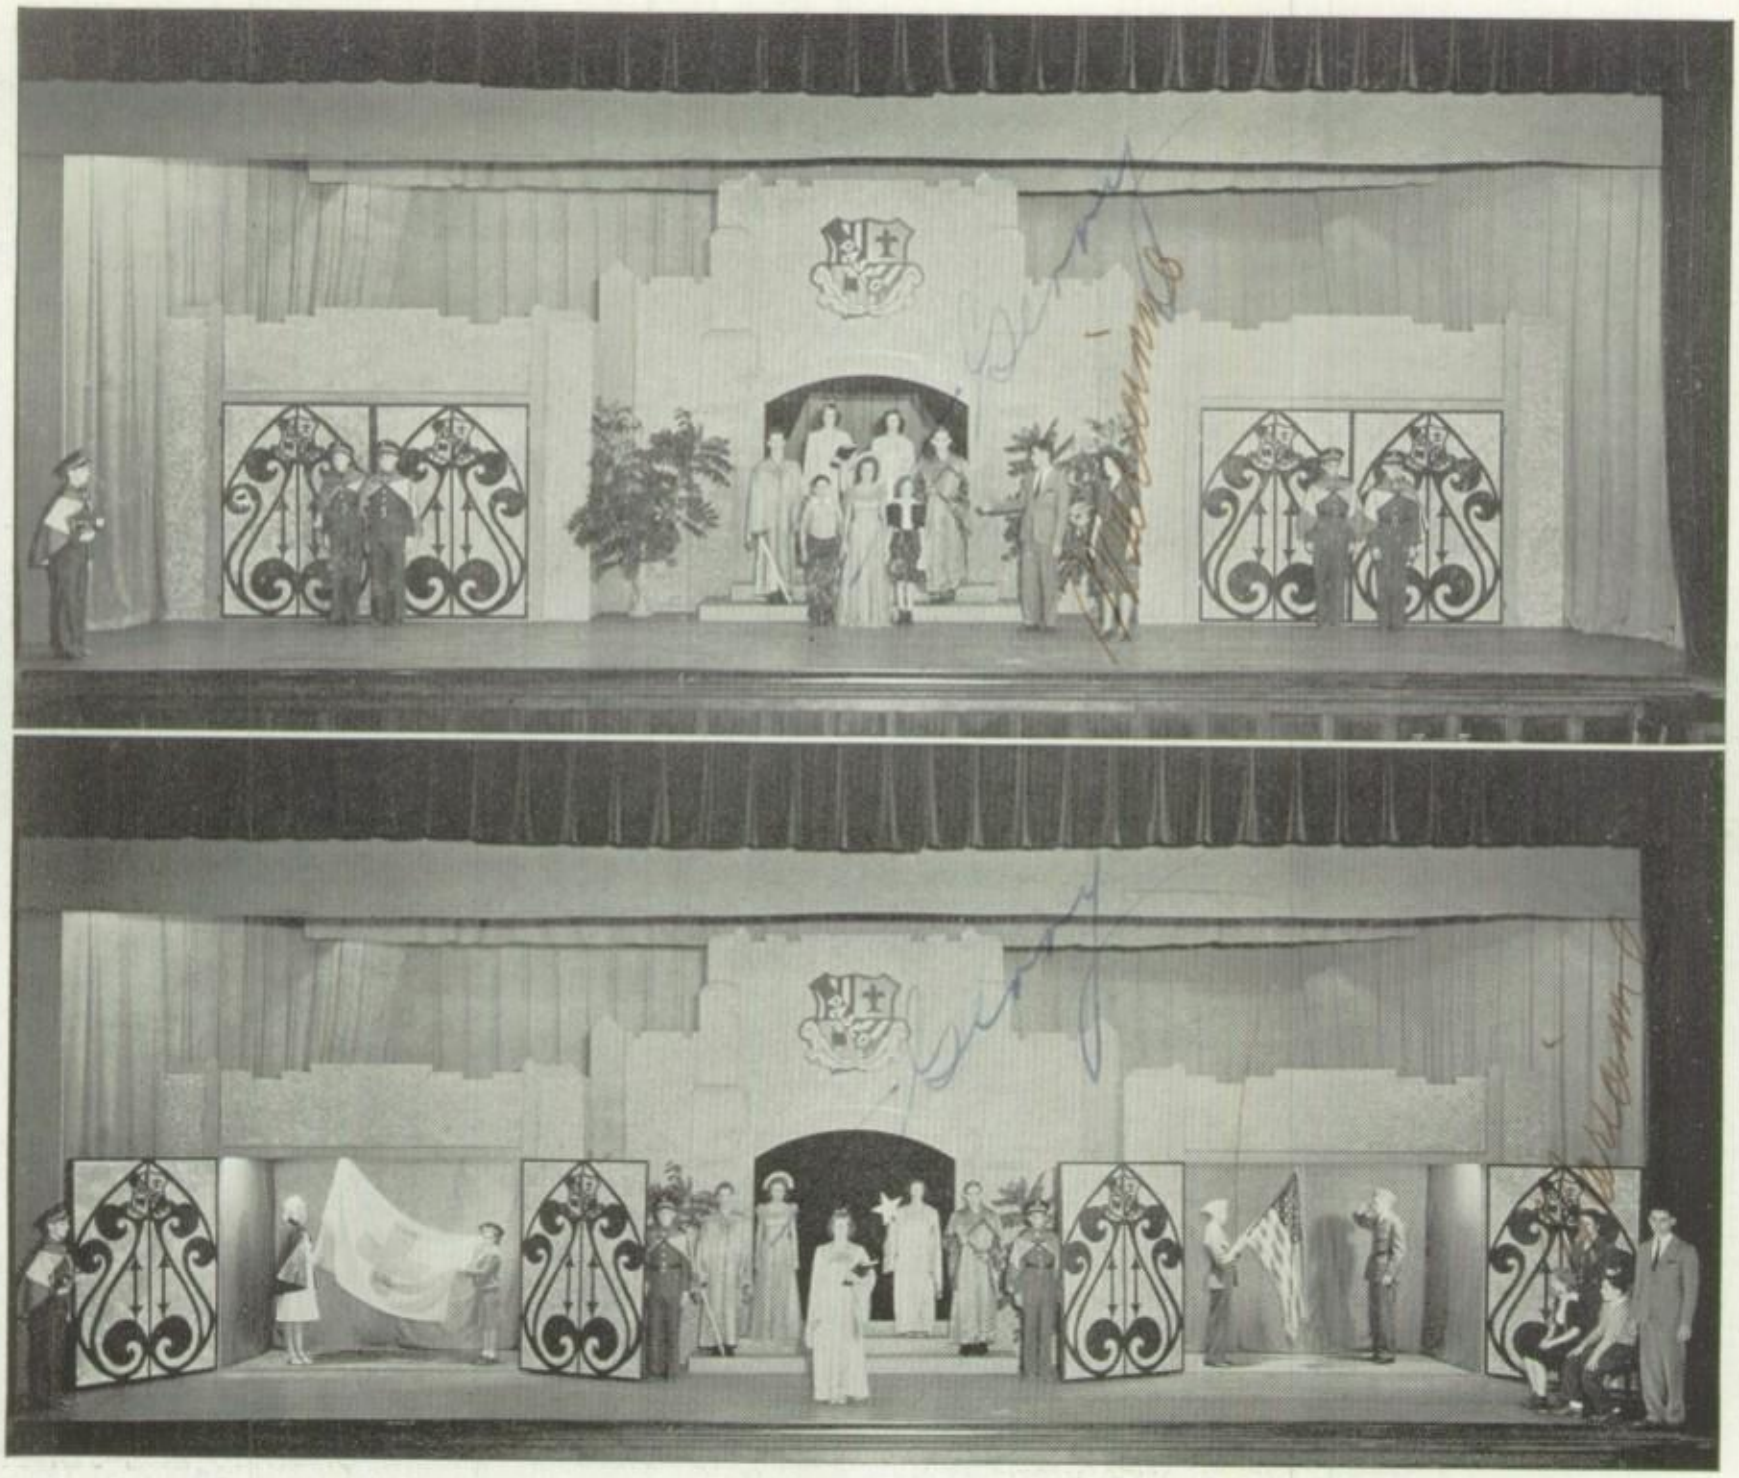
The Pepperade . . .

With capacity crowds on both December 6 and 7, the Pirate Pepperade repeated last year's brilliant example in two packed hours of entertainment with the theme of "Cross Country Swing." Everything from a barn dance to a ballet appeared on the trip which started at New York City and traveled westward.

The La Conga was the main feature in the New York night club scene, and tap dancing predominated in the visits to West Point and Dog Patch. There was also singing, both classical and popular, and a beautiful ballet accompanied by four pianos.

On reaching the mountains of the west, cowboys sang and twirled ropes around the campfire. Going further, a stop was made in a Hollywood studio where "Romeo and Juliet" was being filmed.

All the scenes and presentations were clever and elaborate, displaying the skillful work put into them.



The Freshman Induction . . .

Four years ago, the Senior Class of 1941 was introduced to the ideals of Paseo in the first Freshman Induction Ceremony. Since then, it has become a tradition to receive the Freshman Class with this ceremony in which students symbolically represent qualities and principles of Paseo and the services one may render to her.

Those participating in the program were:

Jean Turner	Freshman Girl
Donald Tranin	Freshman Boy
Marianne Calhoun	Senior Girl
Bob Peake	Senior Boy
Charles Peterson	Courage
Catherine Ament	Sincerity
Bernard Tanner	Loyalty
Geraldine DePetre	Youth

A great deal of credit is due to the faculty committee who attended to the properties and costumes, assisted with the tableaux, directed the lighting, and took care of numerable other details in order to make the program a success. Those on the committee were: Miss Baity, Miss Betz, Mr. Crocker, Miss Johnson, Mr. Jones, Mr. Lortz, Miss Miller, Miss Schmidt, Miss Seehorn, Miss Swinney, Mr. Wehrle, and Mr. Withers.

Miss Schmidt, art teacher, designed the new set which was constructed by Mr. Jones, crafts teacher. The following students assisted Miss Schmidt in painting the new gates: Pauline Deniston, Mary Frye, Beverly Gardner, June Gilchrist, Nova Passantino, Peggy Tellmann, Lois Stafford, Dorothy Neidert, and Rose Shapiro. Miss Taylor, chairman of the committee, Mr. Lortz, Mr. Wehrle, and Mr. Withers painted the set itself.

THE PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

This organization has continued its work of helping the students and faculty in a very admirable way this year, by giving financial help to various organizations and sponsoring lectures for parents and teachers.

The officers were: president, Mrs. R. E. Corbin; first vice-president, Mrs. H. W. Austin; second vice-president, Mrs. G. H. Miller; third vice-president, Miss Crissman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. R. Inman; recording secretary, Mrs. O. B. Pecha; auditor, Mr. A. B. Richmond; night presiding officer, Mr. E. E. Thompson; retiring president, Mrs. Reed McKinley.

A. A. U. W.

The American Association of University Women each year sponsors the five girls who had the highest scholastic standing in their freshman class. These girls are given extensive training in subjects which will help them in college. There are fifteen members of the A. A. U. W. at Paseo, for when a girl qualifies her freshman year, she remains a member for her other three years. Through the homerooms, the girls gave speeches telling about the College Exhibit presented at the Sophian Plaza by the A. A. U. W. Officers were: president, Betty Ann Breed; secretary, Doris Johnson; telephone committee chairman, Roberta Mitzel; historian, Alice Edwards.

Girls in White . . .

GIRLS IN WHITE

Keeping up with Progressive Education, the Health Room at Paseo under the supervision of Miss Powers, offers to seven senior girls a chance to gain valuable experience by serving in the Health Room. These girls are chosen from the physiology classes on the basis of character and scholastic standing.

Assistants were: first hour, Dora Ann Freeman; second, Marian Montgomery; third, Dorothy Stalcup; fourth, Virginia Rippel and Shirley Haggard; fifth, Clara Louise Haskins; sixth, Shirley Crockett.

THE OFFICE ASSISTANTS

These girls, chosen not only because of their ability, but because of their high scholastic rating as is shown by their personal rating cards, render service to Mr. Stigall, Mr. Shepard, Miss Friend, and the clerks each hour of the day. They are chosen from Mrs. Neher's second-year secretarial classes, and besides rendering the school a valuable service they obtain experience which will probably aid them later in life.

Dr. Hoxie

DR. GEORGE H. HOXIE

Dr. George H. Hoxie worked for many years to establish tuberculin testing in the Kansas City Schools, and it is largely through his efforts that this program was developed. Dr. Hoxie has now retired from the active practice of medicine, but the health of many generations of high school students will be improved because of his vigorous fight against tuberculosis.

The National Honor Society . . .

The National Honor Society for Secondary Schools is a national organization encompassing some quarter of a million members. Begun in 1900, the National Honor Society corresponds to the Phi Beta Kappa of colleges and universities. The members are chosen for four cardinal qualities: scholarship, character, leadership, and service. In order to be eligible for membership one must be in the upper twenty-five per cent of his class scholastically. Ten per cent of the Senior Class and one per cent of the Junior Class are chosen each year. Serving as officers this year were: Bernard Tanner, president; Betty Ann Breed, vice-president; Marion Shields, secretary; Betty Jean Soule, treasurer; Dora Ann Freeman, sergeant-at-arms; and Fred Richardson, reporter. Elected from the Junior Class this year and candidates for officers of the society next year were Dick Hope, Doris Johnson, Carl Moeller, Marcia Rubin, Allan Stubbs, and Charles Teaney.

HIGH SCHOOL DAY

THE QUILL AND SCROLL

The Quill and Scroll is an honorary organization for aspiring high school journalists. The membership includes those who have done the most outstanding work in Newswriting, stand in the upper third of their class scholastically and are either of junior, senior or post-graduate ranking.

Mr. Wayne Davidson of Kansas University and Mr. George C. Sheldon, a member of the staff of the Kansas City Star, were guest speakers at the Induction ceremonies.

The officers were: Betsy Moody, president; Albert Kupper, vice-president.

HIGH SCHOOL DAY

Governing the city for a day was the privilege granted to Kansas City high schools through the co-operation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the School Board, and the City Hall officials.

On the final ballot Charles Johnson, senior of Central High School, was elected Mayor-for-a-day. The following were chosen by Paseo as candidates: Warren Hyten, mayor; Marion Shields and Wayne Silvius, municipal judge; John Orear, Marjorie Ramey, and Doris Johnson, councilman. Holding appointive offices were: Betty Rams, John Reber, seniors; Jack Bandalier, Marion Williams, juniors; and Jimmy Wood, sophomore. Bob Peake, Bob McPherson, and Charles Teaney were Paseo's representatives to the all-city council.

The Paseo Press . . .

The eyes and ears of the Paseo students . . . the Paseo Press.

The first semester staff began the subscription drive last fall with an assembly. Members of the staff also spoke in the homerooms.

The second semester staff had an assembly with a panel discussion on the propaganda, editorials, and other items of the paper. From this they offered a prize for the best similar discussion by a student. They also published the Treasure Chest which consisted of the most outstanding literary achievements of pupils in the English department.

A great honor came to Paseo and to Charles Teaney, the editor of the first semester Press, when his article on the work of the Traffic Squad was published in the Student Life Magazine.

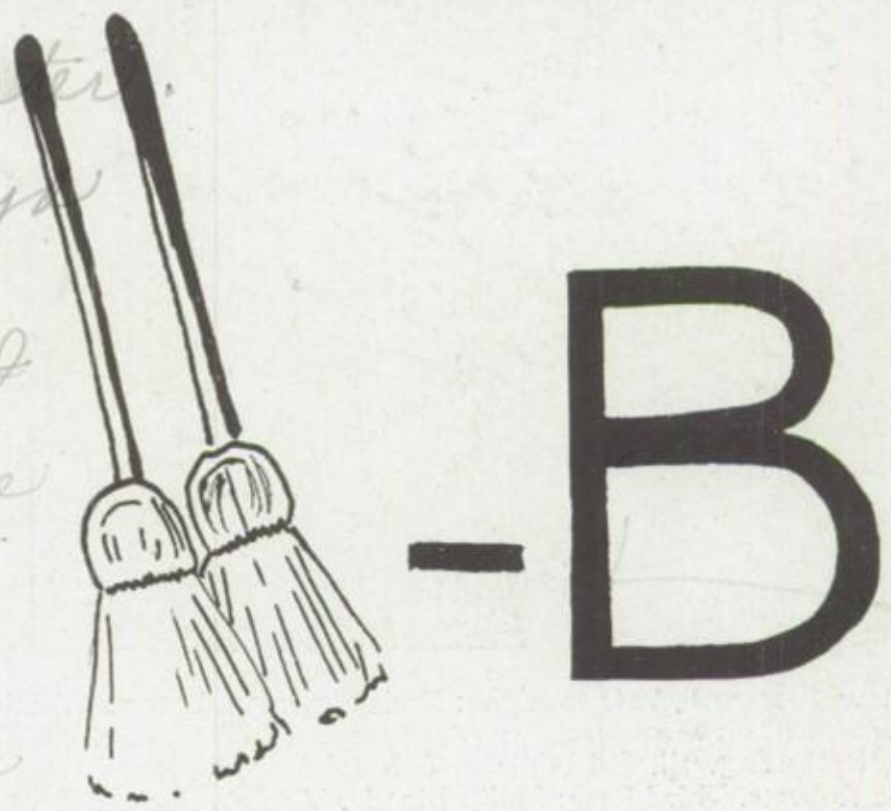
Dearest Maryjane,

Gee, kid haven't we had fun together. I can remember when you first came to this neighborhood. Since then this neighborhood has been much brighter. You and Floyd make the most adorable couple & I hope you continue to be, because I want to be the bridesmaid (all in fun, kid).

You are too "swell" for words & I hope we may continue to be friends & have good time during this summer & all the rest of our lives.

Loads of luck, success, happiness & love & etc to a swell, sweet, cute & darling girl. I think you deserve everything nice that comes your way.

Love always, Velma



June Gilchrist

I stumbled on this one by accident when I fell down the front steps. I wrote out the answer for you on page 92.

Dear Mary Jane,
Well this will be the last time I'll write in one of your annuals so here goes. You have been one of my best friends these past two years, helping me out in Spanish & everything else you did but I didn't take advantage of it. Mary Jane you are one of the swellest girls I have ever known & really mean that, you have everything it takes to get along & I know you will put it to good use. I really hope I get to see you this summer & in the years to come. I really like your Mary Jane & I think Floyd is very lucky.
Here's wishing the swellest, best looking girl in Paso everything there is.
Love Ruth

MR. ARMOUR'S HOMEROOM

Mr. Armour's boys were too busy with their athletics to elect any homeroom officers. However, their representatives to the Student Council were: Bob Wayne and Frank Royer; alternate to the Student Council, Howard Cheifitz and Bob Wayne.

MR. SELVIDGE'S HOMEROOM

Mr. Selvidge's homeroom was also so deeply concerned with the more serious affairs of life that they could find no time for such frivolous activities as electing class officers. However, their representative to the Student Council for both semesters was Elwyn Cady and their alternate for both semesters was Jack Busby.

I bet the kids in the typing room never dreamed this was hidden in there. Page 92 holds the answer.

Dear Mary Jane,

Well, here we are with another graduation at hand. It doesn't seem possible that 9 long years ago you & I saw each other for the first time. Well, I really value your friendship and I hope it will continue. I think you're one of the finest girls I have ever had the privilege of knowing.

ZETA LITERARY SOCIETY

This year the Zetas' program was quite different from that of most of the clubs. Poetry was recited by each member when answering the role and they also were influential in promoting other types of literature. A Valentine's party, several informal feasts with the Keats, having a speaker give them information about attending college—these are a few of the things they number among their most enjoyable events.

Their officers were: president, Marion Shields and Marian Montgomery; vice-president, Marian Montgomery and Dorothy Powers; secretary, Violet Robb; treasurer, Dorothy Powers and Betty Breed; sergeant-at-arms, Dorothy Prather and Doris Johnson; reporter, Doris Johnson and Nadyne Quisenberry.

KEATS LITERARY SOCIETY

The Keats had the honor of being the only club at Paseo to sponsor a radio program. It was on station KCKN every Friday from 3:15 to 3:30. Dick Foth was largely responsible for it. The Keats Torch of Recognition was given this year to Earl Porter. This cup is given each year to the outstanding Keats senior. The selection was made by a faculty committee of three members. Two informal initiations and feasts were held with their sister club, the Zetas.

The officers were: president, Bob Luder and Earl Porter; vice-president, Bill Ragle and Jack Affleck; secretary, Bob McPherson and Ed Hansen; treasurer, Kermit Hill and Henry Bulis; sergeant-at-arms, Wayne Silvius and Lloyd Monson.

Fourth Row: Mr. Jones, Floyd Mankameyer, Jim Shaffer, Warren Stark, John DeMasters, Bob Dennis, Charles Opel, Darrell Havener.

CYNTHIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

In their new colors of dubonnet and white, the Cynthians were quite busy. They were entertained at a tea by the Zetas and enjoyed themselves with their tea at the Hotel Continental. They found initiations pleasing to their humor palates, and two joint informal initiations and feasts were held with the Engineers.

The officers were: president, Marjorie Ramey and Dortha McCarthy; vice-president, Kathryn McElyea and Lois Leavell; secretary, Dortha McCarthy and Gloria Huff; treasurer, Donna Brosnahan and Margarete Hutchins; sergeant-at-arms, Pat Clark and Marjorie Sheridan; reporter, Marian Williams and Pat Clark; endymion, Betty Jean Soule and Charlotte Browning.

PASEO ENGINEERS' CLUB

The Engineers have done some of the most interesting and unusual things this year. They visited Mr. Jones' home and took an inquiring and educational field trip to T. W. A., besides adopting a new method of pledging. They held several joint feasts with the Cynthians and greatly enjoyed the intersociety dances.

Taking time out from all these activities, they elected the following officers: president, Harold Danbury and Warren Hyten; vice-president, Warren Hyten and Alan Hoare; secretary, Bruce McCormick and Dale Smith; treasurer, Bill Pettit and Dick Vance; sergeant-at-arms, Alan Hoare and John Reber; reporter, Bob Peake and Wayne Golden.

PEPPY PIRATES

This year the Peppy Pirates revised their formal initiation service, having each pledge inducted separately in a candle lighting service. The pledges were then presented with roses. A Mother-Daughter tea was held in the library auditorium, and they had many feasts at their meetings. Several lectures on dating were given by various members.

The officers were: president, Marjorie DeKruyff; vice-president, Maudell Hagan and Barbara Lang; secretary, Barbara Lang and Aileen McKinley; treasurer, Fanny Leitnaker; sergeant-at-arms, Phyllis Steil and Betty Nelson; reporter, Betty Allison and Colleen Chambers; initiator, Aileen McKinley and Virginia Blair.

IOTA LITERARY SOCIETY

The Iota pledges were made to suffer by being made to furnish the entertainment for several of the meetings during the year, but they believe their suffering well worth while. The mothers of the girls were delightfully entertained at the Mothers' Tea. The Spring Luncheon was greatly enjoyed by all the girls, as was their participation in the intersociety dances.

From their group, they elected the following officers for the year: president, Betty Lee Rams and Virginia Cordry; vice-president, Martha Scott and Wanda Lee Moore; secretary, Shirley Haggard; treasurer, Virginia Cordry and Rosalie Austin; sergeant-at-arms, Wanda Lee Moore and Louise Carleton; reporter, Louise Carleton and Norma Rockey.

THICION LITERARY SOCIETY

The Thicions carried out the patriotic theme that has proved so popular this year by having sailor dresses for their club outfits. Fun was had at their two informal initiations with their brother club, the Juntos. Their annual Spring Luncheon was one of the main highlights of the year.

Presiding as officers for the past year were: president, Velma Kramer and Peggy Tellmann; vice-president, Peggy Reuteler and Jackie Hansen; secretary, Jackie Hansen and Peggy Reuteler; treasurer, Peggy Tellmann and Marianne Calhoun; sergeant-at-arms, Marianne Calhoun and Lucy Nathan; reporter, Katie Ament and Susan Sanders; parliamentarian, Lucy Nathan and Velma Kramer; initiator, Teddy Harrington and Mary Gardner.

THE INTERSOCIETY DANCES

Yippee Kye Oh Kye Aye! The first intersociety dance of the year was a barn dance. Barn dances are the latest fad that is sweeping the country so the students of Paseo did the conventional thing. The Sorghum Lappers played for the dancers as they attempted to perform the old-fashioned barn dance. Everyone wore clothes he thought appropriate for country life.

The second intersociety dance of the year was formal. The clubs were fortunate in securing one of the best young bands in Kansas City to play. The girls were all very pretty. Blue, pink and white were the most popular colors for their dresses. As usual the two dances sponsored by the charter clubs were a grand success.

THE GIRL RESERVES

Having a total of two hundred members, the Girl Reserves may easily claim to be the largest organization at Paseo. Under the leadership of student officers and faculty advisers, they built their year's program upon the theme, "Life Size 16."

Included in these meetings were discussions on minority groups, the effect of religion in daily life, and several service projects. Besides this more serious aspect the girls presented talent shows, held personal discussions and gave may entertaining parties.

This year the service projects were the most outstanding features of the club's program. During World Fellowship Week, which came in the early fall, rice suppers were held at the homes of various members. At these dinners the girls ate only rice and the money that ordinarily would have been spent for food was donated to the Chinese relief fund.

The officers and cabinet for the year 1940-41 were: president, Marion Shields; vice-president, Betty Jean Soule; secretary, Beverly Ralph; treasurer, Marion Williams; senior triangle chairman, Betty Ann Breed; junior triangle chairman, Patsy Clark; sophomore triangle chairman, Patty Redding; freshman triangle chairman, Patty Piffer; devotional chairman, Roberta Mitzel; service chairman, Fanny Leitnaker; music chairman, Arliene O'Dell; social chairman, Peggie Reuteler; publicity chairman, Dorothy Neidert; membership chairman, Marian Montgomery; finance chairman; Betty Lee Rams; interclub council members, Marjorie Ramey and Patty Johnson.

THE HI-Y

The Hi-Y is the branch of the Young Men's Christian Association for high school boys. The emblem, which is a cross enclosed by a triangle, represents the Body, Mind, Spirit, and a well-rounded life. A lettermen's banquet was held in the fall and a faculty dinner in the spring. The officers for the year were: president, Bob Luder and Jim Corbin; vice-president, Warren Hyten and George Cramer; secretary, Jim Corbin and Henry Bulis; treasurer, Bill Ragle and Dick Hope; song leader, John Orear and Harold Short; membership chairman, Wayne Silvius and Warren Hyten; devotional chairman, Dick Hope and Earl Porter; publicity chairman, Bob Luder.

THE SOCIOLOGY CLUB

The Sociology Club membership consists of all persons who have taken Sociology in their school career. The outstanding event of the year was the time spent studying with the pupils of Lincoln High School. The club was fortunate to have Mr. Mayberry, teacher of sociology at Lincoln, speak at one of their meetings. He told them that each year he had the members of his classes make a list of the ten problems that faced negro youth that to them were the most important. The club sent representatives to Lincoln to discuss the various problems. These representatives were: Nancy Parshall, Bill Brickell, Velma Kramer, George Cramer, Bill Shockley. It was a very profitable study because everybody in the organization now feels that he knows something of other American citizens, and will consequently act more intelligently towards them.

The officers for the first semester were: president, Lynn Alford; vice-president, Dorothy Prather; secretary-treasurer, Alfred Kleinsteuber; sergeant-at-arms, Dean Rader; reporter, Martha Nearing and Leonard Grozow. The officers for the second semester were: president, George Cramer; vice-president, Tom Ferguson; secretary-treasurer, Velma Kramer; sergeant-at-arms, Eugene Swyden; reporter, John Reber.

Several years ago the fad for silhouettes was sweeping the country. Some people, however, thought this was more than a fad so the Silhouette Club was organized and it is still very active. Few organizations are devoted to art, so this club is a very welcome extra-curricular activity for some of the school's artistic students.

The officers were: president, Catherine Champe and Patricia Hamlet; vice-president, Catherine Lang and Gloria Ritterhoff; secretary-treasurer, Betty Haase and Marjory John; reporter, Catherine Champe.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club had one field trip each semester. The first one was to the Midland Radio-Television Company, where a demonstration of television was given. The other trip was to Jim Blair's house to examine his short wave transmitter.

The officers were: president, Barney Karbank; vice-president, Jack Matson; secretary, Allan Dixon; treasurer, Karl Morgenroth; sergeant-at-arms, Fred Moore.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

This year the Home Economics Club had many speakers at their meetings to tell the girls about different phases of their work. The natural result was the increased interest among the members in home economics.

The officers were: president, Marilyn Libby and Marjorie Sheridan; vice-president, Alice Ricks and Norma Geiger; secretary, Phyllis Steil and Marjorie Venell; treasurer, Irene Oppenheimer and Florence Bockelman; reporter, Dorothy Sells and Mary Seeley.

AGASSIZ CLUB

The Agassiz Club made many trips, not only to study physiography, but also for fun. An expedition to the Art Gallery increased their knowledge of building stone and materials. Another trip was made to the airport for the purpose of studying the weather bureau. A picnic in the fall, a Christmas party, and a spring breakfast comprised their other activities for the year.

The officers were: president, Allan Stubbs and Arthur Barker; vice-president Roger Swanson and Francis Werner; secretary-treasurer, Marian Duncan and Phyllis Lawrence; sergeant-at-arms, Robert Berry; reporter, Darrell Roche. Mr. Wehrle is the faculty adviser.

MUIR CLUB

The chief purpose of the Muir Club is to encourage the conservation of Uncle Sam's natural resources of plant and animal life. Moving pictures, outside speakers, and kodachrome films furnished their entertainment during the year. Their annual spring and fall breakfasts were enjoyed by all those who were able to pull themselves out of bed at the early hour required.

Those presiding for the year were: president, Oneida Beeman and Marian Lang; vice-president, Jack Kittel and Lila Nutt; secretary-treasurer, Dorothy McCool; sergeant-at-arms, Richmond Johnson.

SLIDE RULE CLUB

The Slide Rule Club for the study of advanced mathematics was organized this year under the direction of Miss Marie Friend. The officers of the club were: Bernard Tanner, president; Fred Richardson, vice-president; Dale Smith, secretary; Charles Peterson, treasurer; Bob Score, sergeant-at-arms, and Todd Kleinsteuber, parliamentarian.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The Watana group of the Camp Fire Girls have had another successful year under the leadership of Mrs. Virginia Williamson. This group was one of the eight chosen in Kansas City to receive the annual President's Award, the highest honor a group can attain. Their officers were: president, Frances Wolfskill and Dorthea Gregory; vice-president, Mary Tomlinson and Fern Rue; secretary, Wanda Lee Martin and Betty Jean Soule; treasurer, Alice Sells and Betty Gregory; sergeant-at-arms, Betty Jean Soule and Selma Stone; song leader, Alice Edwards and Shirley Nerman.

THE CHESS CLUB

Every Tuesday the members of the Chess Club can be found in Mrs. Reber's room playing the grand old game of chess. It would be reminiscent of the knights of old if our Paseo students looked like knights instead of Paseo students. The aforementioned scene is a comparatively new one to Paseo, as the Chess Club was organized this year. The big event of the year was a tournament with a group of players from Junior College.

The officers for both semesters were: president, Bob Brown; secretary, Reed Payne.

DISCUSSION CLUB

The Discussion Club was founded this year by Henry Bulis and Arthur Garder for the purpose of discussing and analyzing current and past events. A constitution was written by a committee under the leadership of Dick Hope.

The officers were: president, Henry Bulis and Dick Hope; vice-president, Dick Hope and Minnie Curtis; secretary, Kathryn Grass and Doris Johnson; reporter, Doris Johnson and Bruce McCormick. Miss Lenhart is the faculty adviser.

ORATOR

Paseo's orator this year was Leonard Grozow. The subject of his oration which was given at the American Legion contest was "Constitution, Democracy and the Citizen."

CHARITY SPEAKERS

During Kansas City's charity campaign members of Mr. Richmond's public speaking classes delivered charity speeches over the radio on several occasions. They also spoke in assembly. Warren Hyten was chosen chairman and he introduced the other ten speakers, who selected subjects that dealt with various phases of charity.

DEBATE TEAM

The members of the Debate Team, chosen from Mr. Richmond's public speaking classes, upheld Paseo's reputation again this year in several interscholastic debates. The student body of Paseo had an opportunity to become familiar with the oratorical powers of six of the debaters in an assembly. The question for debate was: "Resolved: That the powers of the Federal government should be increased." Leonard Grozow, chairman, introduced the affirmative team, made up of Arlene Smith, Warren Hyten, and Kermit Hill, and the negative team, Bob Wayne, Dorothy Neidert, and Donald Mauntz.

MASK AND WIG

The Mask and Wig, under the able sponsorship of Miss Seehorn, does a great deal of work for the school. Every fall they have try-outs for membership. The successful candidates then start their work of helping to apply the make-up for the performers in our school productions. At the club meetings the members are instructed in new ways of applying make-up to characters in costume.

The officers were: president, Jackie Hansen and Bob Carter; vice-president, Bob Smith; secretary, Sally Krehbiel and Warren Stark; treasurer, Shirley Nichols; sergeant-at-arms, Dorothy Power; reporter, Minnie Curtis and Marian Montgomery.

THE STAGE CREW

The boys on the stage crew are the ones responsible for the smooth presentation of all of our school entertainments. Mr. Jones is their hard-working and able sponsor.

The officers were: captain, Lloyd Swearingen and Denton Johnston; assistant captain, Albert Kupper and Bill Lothridge; secretary-treasurer, Bill Pettit.

ENTERTAINERS' CLUB

The Entertainers' Club is one of the outstanding service clubs of the school. The members of the club are always ready and willing to furnish talent and entertainment to any group that cares to see them perform.

The officers were: president, Doris Johnson; program chairman, Betty Allison; secretary-treasurer, Arliene O'Dell; sergeant-at-arms, Bill Wallingford.

Dear MaryJane,

Honey, you're a peach of a girl and I sure admire you. I hope we see lots of each other after graduation.

A Cappella Choir . . .

The Paseo A Cappella Choir of this past year proved itself able to maintain the high standards of its predecessors. Opening the year with "Spirit of God" by Powell Weaver at one of the first assemblies, they were soon asked to supply music for the history pageant and later they presented a Christmas play.

They also sang the choral music in "On Our Way," lavish all-school pageant at the Music Hall, participated in a Sunday Episcopal service for the Episcopal Convention in the Municipal Auditorium, sang for the Business Men's Bible Class, and for the Convention of Social Service.

The choir was greatly honored when it was asked to sing at the annual Easter sunrise service at the University of Kansas City, and concluded the year at the graduation exercises in the Municipal Auditorium.

As in the past, Miss Zimmerman deserves the major credit for the choir's excellence.

THE MIXER ORCHESTRA

Under the direction of our new band instructor, Mr. Hackler, the mixer orchestra was reorganized this year. They played at several mixers, assemblies, and at the Fashion Show. The familiar strains of the "Kansas City Blues" identified the new orchestra. Chosen to be in the mixer orchestra were: Shirley Haggard, bass; Paul Mayhugh, first trombone; Bob Stone, second trombone; Oscar Kincaid, first trumpet; Rodney Palen, second trumpet; Bill Kirk, third trumpet; Jean Wood, first saxophone; Leonard Wyatt, second saxophone; Bruce McCormick, first saxophone; Marshall Turkin, second saxophone; Francis Werner, pianist; Charlotte Browning, soloist; Alan Tabolsky, drummer.

THE DRUM MAJORETTES

A squad of six majorettes completed the picture of our band on parade. Dressed in white and gold, they created a picture of beauty and grace. Displaying their talents in the Pepperade, various assemblies and parades, they were well known for their splendid activity. The majorettes were: Charlotte Browning, Nadyne Quisenberry, Margaret Meek, Joan Scott, Rosalie Austen, and Donna Brickell.

I just about got lost in this mammoth room, where miniature Atlases were throwing enormous balls into a hoop. I found this note though, which told me all about it. If you're lost, too, the answer's on page 92.

Football . . .

With only one returning letterman from the '39 squad, Paseo's chances for football glory this year were very slim. When final totals were tallied they showed Paseo in fifth place with one win and four losses. However, the team's reputation as good sports was maintained throughout the season.

Opening with a pre-season game at Rockhurst the Pirates were downed by the hard-hitting Hawk backfield 13-0.

The next two games saw the Bucs downed 7-0 by Northeast and, in an exciting offensive game with East 20-19.

In a non-league exhibition Paseo was nosed out by Ward 12-6 and the Pirate ship was again scuttled by the championship Centralites 18-0.

In the next league encounter, however, the Buccaneers redeemed themselves by defeating Westport 13-7. Paseo ended the season with a defeat from Southeast 6-0.

This year's all-star was the three-year letterman, Eugene Swyden. Honorable mention rating went to Bob Dennis, center; Bill Ragle, quarterback; Ed Gitnick, guard, and John Reber, tackle.

Paseo's regulars are: ends, Bob Luder, Lynn Alford, and John Mainey; tackles, Ed Gross, Jack Affleck and John Reber; guards, Ed Gitnick, Bob Combs, and Frank Peterson; centers, Bob Dennis and Warren Hyten; fullbacks, Gene Swyden and Wayne Silvius; halfbacks, Bob Smith, Lynn Alford, George Cramer, and Ed Hansen; quarterbacks, Bill Ragle and Bob McPherson. The captain was Paseo's all-star, Gene Swyden.

With five juniors lettering this year next fall's squad should show much promise and be battling for the league championship.

Basketball . . .

Although losing the first five games of this year's opening basketball competition the Pirate quintet later picked up speed and won three out of the next six contests.

An effective Paseo defense kept interscholastic opponents' points within six of the Bucs' own total score.

The five preliminary games with Ward, Rockhurst, Olathe, the Alumni, and Leavenworth, indicated Paseo's pre-season weakness.

The first game of interscholastic competition showed Paseo's defense preventing the opposing Northeast Vikings from scoring but 12 points. Score 12-10.

The Paseo offensive picked up in the next game and last year's co-champions fell before the Pirate onslaught, 22-15.

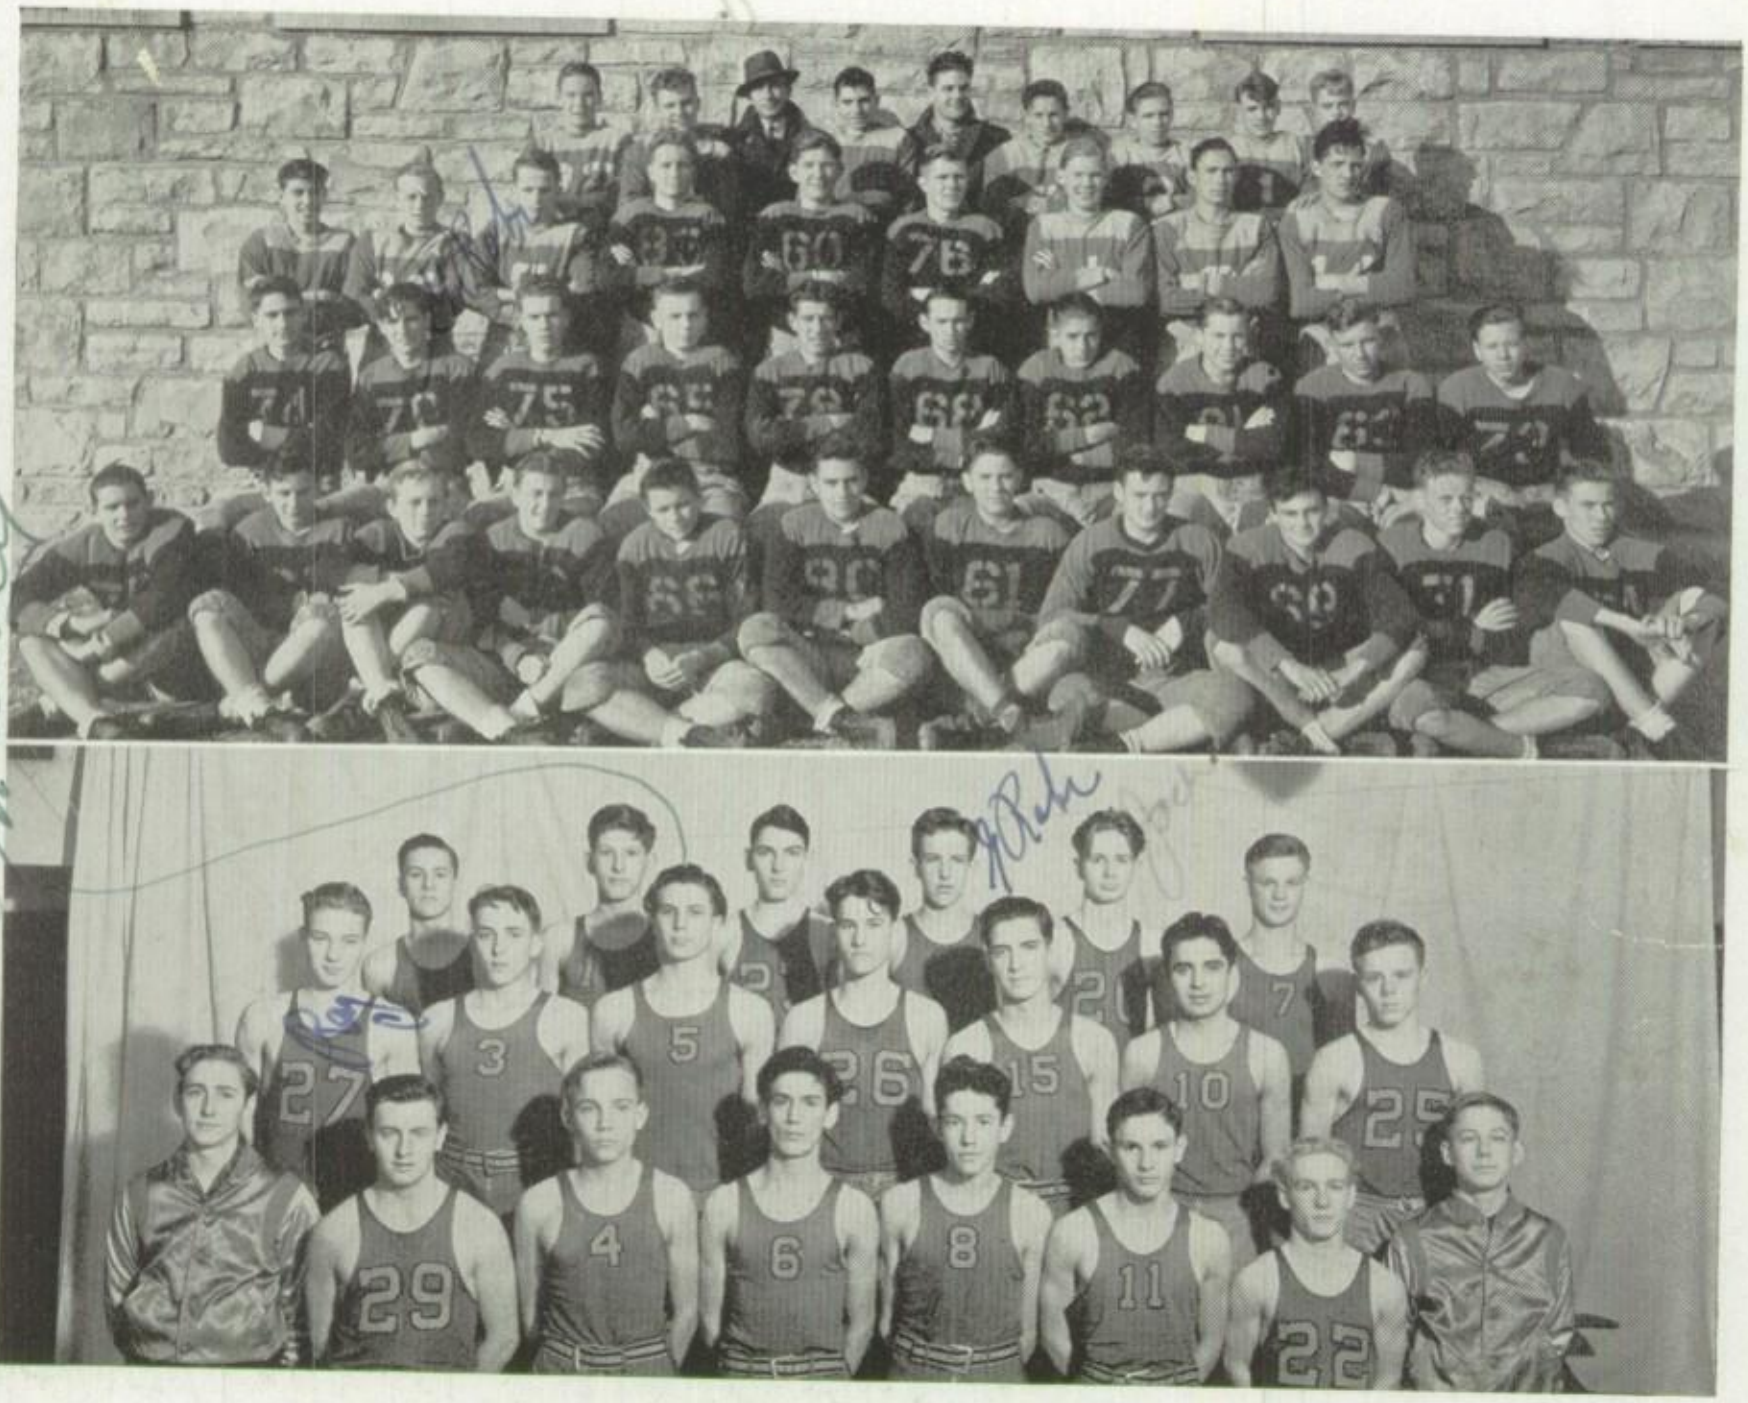
The Pirate hoopsters were downed by the East Bears in the next encounter, 18-11, but redeemed themselves by sweeping over the Southeasters, 32-26.

In the next contest Paseo scored a surprising upset by defeating the league-leading Central Eagles to the tune of 39-29.

The Pirate five finished the season with losses to champion Westport and to the Crimson Manualites.

Pirate Basketeers were Dean Rader, who received all-star honorable mention, Gene Swyden, Lynn Alford, Bud Babcock, Harold Short, Ross Dickey, Bill Eaton, Bob McPherson, Wayne Silvius, Bill Ragle, Floyd Mankameyer, and Dick Zammar. Captains were Harold Short and Bob McPherson.

Considering that there was only one letterman returning from last year's first place squad, the team's standing of fifth place in league competition was a creditable showing.



SECOND TEAM FOOTBALL

SECOND TEAM BASKETBALL

SECOND TEAM FOOTBALL

Although the win and lose column does not show the Pirate second squad among the leaders, the hard-fighting Junior Bucs offer much good material for next year's varsity squad.

Wayne Silvius, Bill Eaton, Ed Gross, Harold Flaigle, and Darrell Havener led the Bucs' attack with passes and good running plays.

The Southeast game was by far the most exciting of the schedule. The Knights came back late in the fourth quarter to recover a costly Pirate fumble which was the deciding factor in the final touchdown making the score 19-13, Southeast.

Other game scores:

Paseo— 0. Northeast—6.
Paseo— 2. East—12.
Paseo— 0. Central—19.
Paseo—13. Southeast—19.
Paseo— 0. Westport—12.
Paseo— 0. Rockhurst—19.

Credit should be given to the many second team members who practiced every night after school but seldom played in league competition. The team was coached by Wayne Wehrle.

SECOND TEAM BASKETBALL

Four wins and six losses is the record of this year's junior Buc cage team.

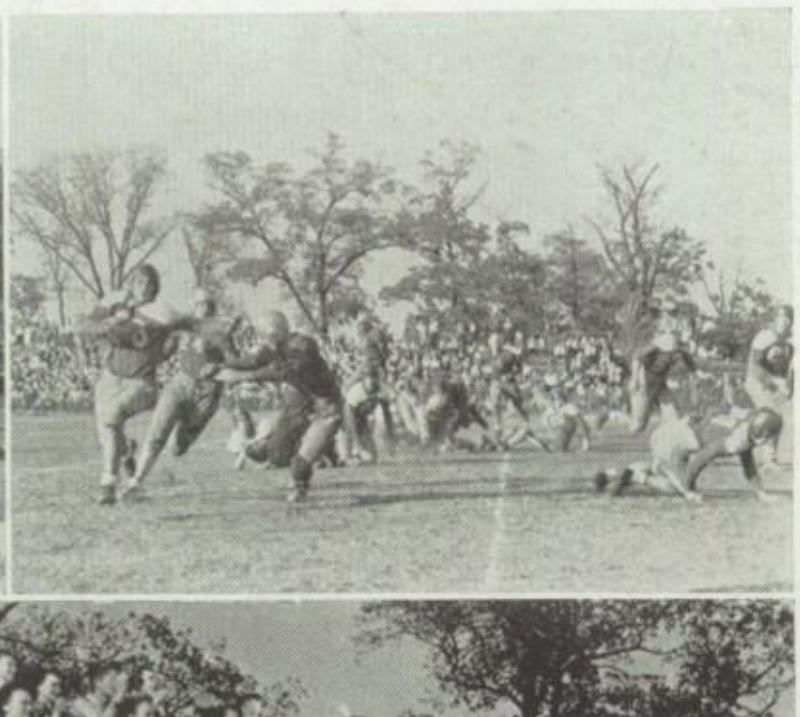
Scores:

Paseo—19.	Ward—17.
Paseo—19.	Rockhurst—24.
Paseo—29.	Northeast—18.
Paseo—17.	Leavenworth—18.
Paseo—13.	Westport—19.
Paseo—15.	Southwest—20.
Paseo—16.	East—19.
Paseo—41.	Manual—7.
Paseo—17.	Southeast—26.
Paseo—22.	Central—36.

Opponents' total scores were but one point more than the Pirates' totals.

Leaders of the Buccaneer attack were Wayne Silvius, Bill Eaton, Harold Flaigle, Frank Bleyenberg, and Sol Rosen.

Coached by Bob Armour the Paseo second team, as in past years, maintained an already well-established reputation of good basketball.



TRACK TEAM

1941 TRACK TEAM

The Central-Paseo track event initiated this year's track and field events. Although the Buc tracksters were trounced by the tune of 60-31, they took first place in the high jump with Bob Smith, returning from the 1940 squad, jumping 5 feet 7 inches. Another first place was gained in the low hurdles, Smith again leading the field to come through to victory.

Kenneth Garrett and Ed Hansen, other Paseo zephyr men, placed second in several events. Although losing the Central meet, Paseo did not lose her courage.

This year Paseo also entered eight contestants in the annual K. U. relays at Lawrence. The eight tracksters representing Paseo at K. U. were Kenneth Garrett, Warren Stark, Wilbur Roberts, Harold Flaigle, Ed Hansen, Ray Bowen, Richard Miller, and Bob Smith. Other Kansas City high school teams participated at Lawrence.

The interscholastic meet was held as usual at the Southwest track.

THE GOLF TEAM

As in past years Paseo's golf team well represented the school in both interscholastic and state tournament competition. Placing fourth in league contests and making a good showing in the state tournament, the golfers played well throughout the entire season. Paseo's golf demons are Herbert Rope, Art Schuman, Bill Connely, Tom Clark, and John DeMasters. D. E. Withers is the team's adviser.

THE TENNIS TEAM

When one mentions interscholastic league tennis, Paseo's team is always mentioned as one of the best. This year's team was no exception. Playing competitive matches with Central and Argentine Highs, Paseo made a fine showing. The Pirate racket swinging lettermen were Bob Matteson, Dick Foth, George Harrison, and Don Mauntz, captain. Jim Corbin was also a member of the team but did not receive a letter.

CHEERLEADERS

To be successful a scholastic team must have the backing of the school. To get this backing someone must arouse the interest of the students. This is the job of the cheerleaders. This year's leaders did a fine job. They not only continually held the interest of the students, but also initiated many new yells. Chosen from a field of six candidates who tried out at the Rockhurst-Paseo football game were Bill Taylor, Dale Smith and Dick DeKruyff. They were assisted by three girl cheerleaders of the Pep Club. They were Pat Johnson, Violet Robb, and Mary Goodwin. The alternates were Shirley Nichols and Rayma Thompson. Two of the leaders were juniors and will be back next year.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

Composed of boys who have won letters in Interscholastic sport competition, the Paseo Lettermen's Club is a group of students with outstanding athletic abilities. Any boy who has a letter earned by work in tennis, golf, football, basketball, or track events is eligible for membership in this sports organization.

Although seldom heard from as a club of social activities, the groups' members are very active in school life. Members are in the Student Council, Auto Club, and are homeroom officers. This year several lettermen presented a humorous skit in the Pirate Pepperade.

The Paseo Lettermen's Club is a group of fine loyal students who are devoted to the upbuilding of Paseo High School.

THE PEP-DEBS

Rah! Rah! Rah! The Pep-Debs have contributed all the support any team could ask at the games. Their yellow sweaters made a large splash of color that could not be ignored. Their cheerleaders were: Rayma Thompson, Violet Robb, Mary Goodwin, Shirley Nichols, and Pat Johnson. The officers were: president, Nadyne Quisenberry; vice-president, Patty Piffer; secretary, Betsy Moody; treasurer, Velma Kramer; sergeant-at-arms, Margaret Alford; reporter, Judy Nutt. There were also over three hundred loyal members who were ably assisted and sponsored by Miss Storms, our new teacher, who has shown herself to be interested in the girls' fun.

Girls' Sports . . .

PLAYDAY

This year Paseo had the honor of having the biggest playday the Kansas City school system has ever seen. There were girls from twelve different high schools and junior highs here May 10. The theme of the day was individual sports. The highlight was a swimming pageant presented by Paseo girls. Its story centered around the idea of life-saving and its importance. After everything was completed, they all adjourned to the cafeteria for dinner.

All day long there were games of tennis raging on the courts at Swope Parkway. The good old shipboard sports of shuffleboard and ping-pong were played in B1 and B2. The latest fad among sports fans is aerial darts and the committee devoted the boys' gym to the addicts of this sport. All girls' baseball is of the softball variety, but this did not keep them from having three rip-roaring games going on the football field at all times. The beauty of a skilled swimmer was demonstrated for all who cared to see in the swimming pool. The ropes, rings, poles, and mats were used in the girls' gym. Another popular game is hand tennis and everybody was glad to know that the whole girls' playground was devoted to this sport. The main purpose of individual sports is to develop a skill in the students of these more or less social activities of this modern world of sports.

All the credit in the world goes to Dr. Hoernig and Miss Storms for making this a red-letter event in the history of the school.

GIRLS' SPORTS

This year the chief news of the girls' physical training department was the addition of a new teacher, Miss Marion Storms, to the faculty. She is a former Paseo student, so we particularly like having her with us again. Of course, the veteran stand-by of the department, Dr. Lena Hoernig, was on hand to contribute her large part. After-school sports took a turn for the better as there were more girls out for them than ever before in the history of the school. Some of the most prominent freshmen took an active interest in all the activities, starting a good foundation for the next three years.

Among other important activities there were two big gym frolics at which one could play games or dance to the music of a nickelodeon or the mixed orchestra. The girls acted as hostesses at these social events. The purpose of the frolics was to gain funds to help buy equipment of various types to make our new gym one of the best equipped in the city. As we all can see this department has had a busy year.

SWIMMING

The purpose of after-school swimming is to eventually make every girl a qualified lifesaver. The classes use the manual of live-saving and water safety that is approved by the National Red Cross at the time. They also must pass the standard Red Cross tests. The beginners in swimming are not excluded from this program as there are special classes for all grades of swimmers.

MANAGERS

As we all know, a team cannot be successful unless it is playing in a well-organized game or tournament. The managers of the girls' sports have done an admirable job along their difficult line of endeavor. These girls were: hockey, Rose Arbisi; basketball, Lillian DeShon; individual sports, Pat and Jack Rubilee; baseball, Margaret Boles; swimming, Patricia Hamlet; dancing, Maxine Mayes and Dorothy O'Shea.

BASKETBALL

Girls' basketball, though it is played on a half court, is the same exciting game that boys' basketball is. The co-captains elected this year were Jackie Rubilee and Margaret Boles. They were supported by a team consisting of Muriel and Marilyn Bondurant, Elouise Nolan, Lillian DeShon, LaVerne Jameson, Clarice Kadlic, Pat Rubilee, and Rose Arbisi. The basketball playday was at East High School. There were many girls out for this sport that could not all make the team, but they still gave their loyal support.

VOLLEYBALL

The volleyball playday was topped off by a demonstration of scooter soccer for the entertainment and enlightenment of all concerned. The girls on the team were: captain, Eloise Nolen; players, Thelma Dawson, Catherine Dickey, Donna Lou Newton, Mary Ann Umstead, Rose Arbisi, Betty Affleck, Maxine Mayes, Patricia Jarchow, Peggy Molloy, Marilyn Mallen, Catherine Hasenzahl. There were so many girls out for this sport the teachers and coaches had a hard time picking the teams. The lucky girls who did obtain the positions did very well for the school.

HOCKEY

One of the vivacious Rubilee twins, namely, Pat, was the captain of our hockey team. The hockey playday was at Westport early this year. The girls that went had the opportunity of seeing a motion picture demonstrating the correct hockey techniques. All agreed that it was an extremely profitable trip. The girls on the team were: Lila Cooke, Rose Arbisi, Margaret Boles, Muriel Bondurant, Marilyn Bondurant, Grace McCracken, Barbara Simmons, Jackie Rubilee, Joan Miceli, Clarice Kadlic, Lillian DeShon, Maxine Mayes, Joan Doudrick, Mary Ann Umstead, and LaVerne Jameson.

The Reserve Officers Training Corps . . .

R. O. T. C. . . .

The Paseo R.O.T.C. battalion opened the year with spirit and enthusiasm for the work ahead. Sergeant Instructor William Cantrell began immediately to shape the unit into a fine organization, giving the first semester over to developing officers.

Bernard Tanner was announced to be Cadet Major on December 15. Bernard made a fine record of advancement in the military subjects. In his first year he was the second place individual of the city and received a medal. The second year as corporal he led his squad to a first place in the Field Day.

The second annual R.O.T.C. assembly was held out-of-doors this year and the student body witnessed examples of the various drills and ceremonies under the command of the cadet officers. In order to raise funds the unit held a ticket sale. The battalion purchased a new set of National Colors and rifle team uniforms with the proceeds. Also there were improvements made on the range in lighting and soundproofing.

The second semester opened brilliantly with the two highlights of the year, the Cadet Officers' Banquet held by the Heart of America Post of the American Legion and the Third Annual Military Ball. The ball was a huge success beginning with a colorful grand march of the officers and ladies. As honored guests were Col. and Mrs. B. P. Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Stigall, Mr. H. R. Shephard, Miss Friend, Mrs. Wm. Cantrell and several members of the faculty. Also attending were the ranking officers of the other schools and their sergeant instructors.

The award of the Swem Memorial Saber this year went to Lt. Bill Shockley. This honor is based upon high qualities of leadership, scholarship, and military proficiency.

Paseo made a fine showing in the annual R. O. T. C. Circus this year with a calisthenics drill under the command of Major Bernard Tanner. The Federal Inspection and Field Day provided a great deal of work for the battalion during the last part of the year. The crack squad for the Field Day was led by Corporal Allan Stubbs. Company "C" was the crack platoon and it was led by Lt. Martin Brown. Capt. Dewey Ellis commanded the crack company. At the Field Day, Major Tanner was awarded a saber by the Kansas City Reserve Officers' Association. The Field Day was the close of the R.O.T.C. year.

Lt. Col. Burr P. Irwin was again the Professor of Military Science and Tactics of the high schools. Assisting him was Capt. Charles Herrmann, lately transferred to Kansas City.

First Sergeant William Cantrell has become a well-known figure in his second year with the unit. His sincerity and drive along with his pleasing personality have made him many friends. This year he received a promotion from Staff to 1st Sergeant. All that know him hope that he will serve Paseo a long time to come.

THE SABERS AND STRIPES

The "Sabers and Stripes" club includes as its members all officers and non-coms of the battalion. It has proved valuable in building the unit through discussion of R.O.T.C. activities and suggestions for greater advancement and military proficiency. The club was active in preparations for the Military Ball and R.O.T.C. picnic. Presiding first semester were: Bob Peake, president; Bernard Tanner, vice-president; Harold Danbury, secretary; Bill Pettit, treasurer; and Warren Hyten, sergeant-at-arms. Officers for second semester were: Dewey Ellis, president; Allan Stubbs, vice-president; Bruce McCormick, secretary; Bill Shockley, treasurer; and Dick DeKruyff, sergeant-at-arms.

COMPANY A

"A" Company was commanded by Capt. Clayton Guthrie. Assisting as platoon leaders were 1st Lt. Tom A. Clark and Lt. Jean Wood. 1st Lt. Bill Shockley, adjutant, was also of "A" Company. Robert Berry was 1st Sergeant.

COMPANY B

"B" Company was under the command of Capt. Dewey Ellis. Leader of the platoons were 1st Lt. Fred Richardson and Lt. Charles Opel. In the position of 1st Sergeant was Robert Carter.

Dear Mary Jane:

COMPANY C

"C" Company was led by Capt. Bill Pettit who was seconded by 1st Lt. Bob Fletcher and Lt. Martin Brown. The 1st Sergeant was Edwin Krigel. Company "C" was the smallest company but it was not lacking in enthusiasm.

RIFLE TEAM

The Rifle Team, though not city winners, proved themselves by winning several matches and provided a nucleus for a winning team in the future. Among its activities were the city matches, the Corps Area Match, and the Hearst Trophy Match. Marshall Starling was awarded the proficiency certificate at Field Day. Expert Rifleman medals were given to Dewey Ellis, captain; Clayton Guthrie, Marshall Starling, Allan Stubbs, and George Groeneman.

Lots of luck to

Well, I've seen about all there is to see, and I've run myself ragged trying to figure out these clues. I've only got two more groups to look over and one of these isn't very important. It's a group of intellectuals (ain't I getting spiffy) who are graduating in June or thereabouts.

The other group is an illustrious body of men and women, who are well known for their patience, highly touted for their intelligence, and excelled by no group in their kindness to dumb animals — the last named being the studes.

But to get back to the clues, my pappy sure did a good job of hiding what he meant when he concocted those puzzels (that sure is a good way to spell it). I tried every way known to solve those hieroglyphics and didn't succeed. Finally in desperation I stood on my head and stared at 'em. And like a flash it came to me. So if you want to solve them you'll have to stand on your head (or expend all the energy to turn this book over and read them, that is, if you can read).

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

Flash! Another freshman class has begun the march to the top of the hill at 4747 Flora. Bursting with enthusiasm, their smiling faces may be seen (sometimes) as they race by in the hall. Although they have only started their high school career, many names are already outstanding in this class of 1944.

Reaching the top scholastically, by attaining the highest honor roll, were these admirable students: Elwyn Cady, Albert Gerecht, Dorothea Gregory, and Shirley Nerman.

Representing their class in the Freshman Induction were Jeanne Turner and Donald Tranin. On the executive board of the Student Council, Charlene McPheeters, Elwyn Cady, Marietta Marshall, and Albert Goller also represented their class.

Although interscholastic athletics are not open to freshmen, Bill Lacy has distinguished himself by winning the Freshman Table Tennis Tourney. Lenore Eisner, winner of the Freshman Poetry Reading Contest, has set an example for other members of the class.

In Girl Reserves, Patty Piffer has risen to the top by being chosen chairman of the Freshman Triangle. Taking first prizes in the Fashion Show were Betty Rigg and Patty Piffer.

In the next three years, even greater heights will be attained by these and other members of this class of '44.

THE CLASS OF '43

Having already oriented themselves to Paseo High School and its many activities, members of the Sophomore Class have equipped themselves to become the leaders of our school. For the first time in the history of the school, a two-year course in retail selling was made available to a Sophomore Class to be taken in their junior and senior years. One advantage of the course would be actual experience in salesmanship in various stores and shops.

By virtue of their excellent grades, these smart sophomores attained the highest honor roll: Alice Edwards, Dick Foth, John Mandrow, Henry Snyder, Fred Timms, Anna Fox, and Gerre Jones.

In athletics many members of this class have begun what appear to be very promising careers. Outstanding in second team football were George Rohr, Tom Seiter, Bill David, Bob Stone, and Bob Wimmers. In basketball, Bob (Put-Put) Miller and Leigh Dickey represented their class by winning second team letters. Kenneth Garrett was outstanding in track practice and attended the relays at Kansas University.

Winifred Shields, Norman Royer, Lorraine Jordan, and Robert Miller were sophomore representatives on the Executive Board of the Student Council.

In R. O. T. C., Frank McSpadden and Gerre Jones were noted for their ability and co-operation. Patty Redding and Beverly Ralph were the two sophomore girls on the Girl Reserve Cabinet.

The names of these and many other members of this Sophomore Class appear on the rolls of many chartered, departmental, and special interest clubs. From this list you can readily see that the ideals of Paseo will shine as bright if not brighter in '43.

JUNIOR OFFICERS

JOHNSON, DORIS MARIE — The president of the Junior Class was also reporter and sergeant-at-arms of the Zetas, president of the Entertainers Club, vice-president of the A Cappella Choir and secretary of the A. A. U. W. She also has distinguished herself by being a member of the Paseon Staff.

SILVIUS, WAYNE — The gift receiver of the Junior Class was notably a big, strong athlete. He was on the first team of both basketball and football, and gym happens to be his one and only favorite subject. He was also a member of the Keats, on the Traffic Squad, and a Student Council representative.

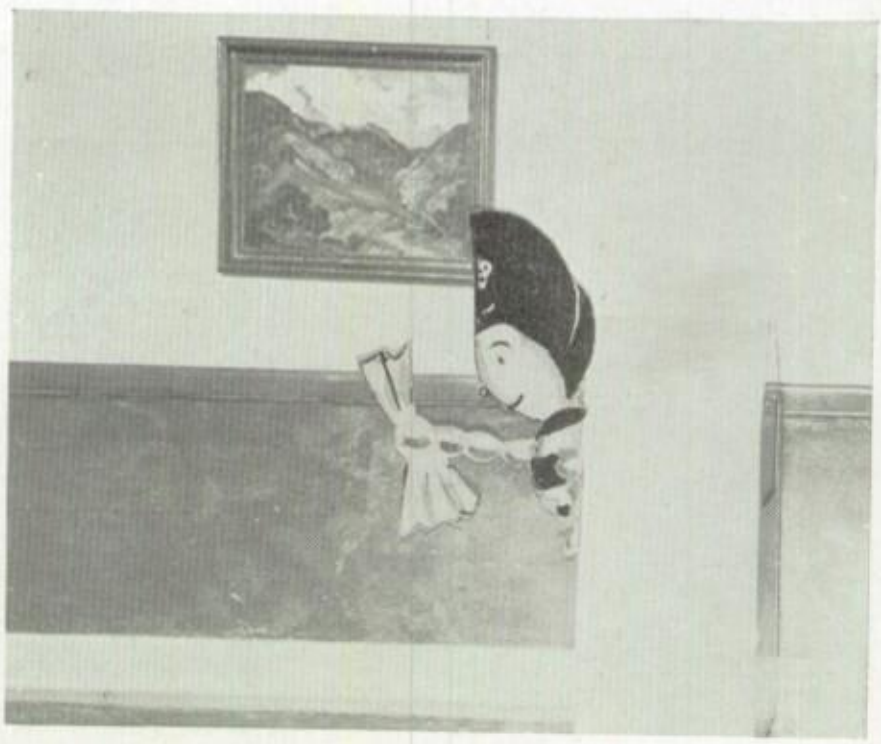
JOHNSON, PATRICIA — Johnson does not sound particularly Spanish, but Pat is an important person to the Spanish department. She has been on the executive boards of the Student Council and the Girl Reserves at different times. Pat is also a member of the Zetas and the A Cappella Choir.

WEST, BARBARA LEE — Babs and Wayne went to the same school in Springfield before coming to Paseo. Coincidence. The secretary of the class was a Zeta and a member of the Discussion Club. Babs also held the office of service chairman in her Girl Reserve triangle.

HAVENER, DARRELL — "Haner" will be one of our star athletes next year as he greatly contributed to the success of our second teams this year. He is president of the fifth hour Parliamentary Law Club, as well as being a member of the Engineers, the Traffic Squad and the treasurer of the Junior Class.

TEANEY, CHARLES — Charles had the distinction of being an editor-in-chief of the Paseo Press when he was still a junior. His other accomplishments include being the junior representative to the All-City Student Council, a first team football letterman, a member of the Engineers and Traffic Squad and sergeant-at-arms of his class.

McCORMICK, BRUCE — Mac's amiable disposition has gained for him a great popularity that is shown by his being secretary of the Engineers and Sabers and Stripes and a member of the Discussion Club, the Traffic Squad and Quill and Scroll. He has rendered service as an Eagle Scout, member of the concert band, and Junior Class reporter.



Dear Mary Jane

Although I haven't known you very long it has been long enough for me to realize what a swell girl you are. Just stay the way you are and you are bound to have all the good luck that you deserve.

SHIELDS, MARION — Whether or not Marion will be our first lady president or not we do not know, but she led all of the following organizations: the Senior Class, the Girl Reserves, Zetas, Parliamentary Law Club, and the wonderful Paseon. She was always on the Highest Honor Roll and held offices in the Spanish Club, the Junior Class, and the National Honor Society . . . PEAKE, ROBERT T. — President of the Student Council and Sabers and Stripes, officer of the Engineers, a member of the Honor Roll and Traffic Squad, captain in the R.O.T.C., circulation manager of the Paseo Press, member of the Quill and Scroll, signal major in the band, a junior officer, and vice-president of the Senior Class. Need more be said? . . . McPHERSON, ROBERT — Our Senior Class giftorian's career reads as follows: Club—Keats, secretary; service—president of the Student Council and the Junior Class, and captain of the Traffic Squad; athletics—football and basketball letterman.

LUDER, ROBERT JACOB — Gootch was president of Keats and Hi-Y, general of the Traffic Squad, vice-president of the Junior Class, and secretary of the Senior Class. He thrilled the feminine hearts by playing football and competing with the track team, and was consequently a member of the Lettermen's Club . . . RAMEY, MARJORIE — Marjorie will attend J.C., like many of the rest of us, but her career at Paseo was very exceptional. She was president of the Cynthians and Junior Triangle of the Girl Reserves, secretary of the Student Council twice, besides being class officer both her junior and senior year, an office assistant, a member of the A Cappella Choir, and the gold figure in the Freshman Induction . . . MONTGOMERY, MARIAN — Marian shows what a marvelous personality she has by being president of the Zetas, a member of the executive board of the Student Council, the Girl Reserves, the Honor Roll, Mask and Wig, Press Staff, and mixer committee.

OREAR, JOHN CATLETT — As sports are his hobby and he intends to become a sports writer, our senior reporter was on the football and track teams. His other activities included being vice-president of the Student Council and a member of the all-city council and Traffic Squad and an officer of the Juntos, Hi-Y, and Lettermen's Club . . . AFFLECK, JOHN H. — Morty was a gridiron hero. This is also his hobby. While here at Paseo he enjoyed being a Keats and working in the drafting room . . . AHLSTROM, MARGARET BERNICE — Margie would like to be a business girl as the commercial college is her destination. Four years a Girl Reserve, she ranked the Muir Club, and Auto Club right along with sewing as her favorite diversions.

ALBER, ELAINE — Elaine was a very versatile girl as is shown by the fact that she was in the fashion shows, the A Cappella Choir, was initiator of the Iotas, a Girl Reserve, and she enjoys roller skating . . . ALDERSON, FRANK B. — This prospective engineer spent his four years at Paseo in a profitable manner despite the fact his hobby is sleeping. He was in the band four years, the Spanish Club, and the Auto Club . . . ALEXANDER, JANE ANNE — Alex is a rather masculine name for a sixteen-year-old blonde, but so she is called. She enjoys being a very good secretary.

ALFORD, LYNN B. — While waiting around to go to Kansas State, where he will major in electrical engineering, Lynn busied himself by playing football and basketball, being a loyal Keats, and the president of the Sociology Club . . . AMENT, CATHERINE M. — Katie is athletic to the extent that she thinks there is nothing like a good game of bridge. Despite this she wants to go around the world on a bicycle and report to her editor just how she found this old planet. Before going on this journey she has condescended to stay with us for awhile and join our French Club, the Thicions and the Freshman Induction cast for a major part . . . ANDERSON, ROBERT CARL — Hack's ability along culinary lines was demonstrated in the cooking laboratory. Drumming is his hobby, as he is the drummer in one of our best Kansas City bands.

ANWANDER, EDWARD L. — Ed was one of the illustrious members of the Student Council, and he hopes to keep up his good work at Rockhurst. On the comparatively light side, he liked track and the more practical printing. On the deeper side he favored geometry . . . ARBEITER, ERNESTINE KATHRYNE — Ernie expects to be an accountant, but figures do not warp her mind. She was a Peppy Pirate, on the Honor Roll, a Student Council representative, and she dances, reads, and sews a great deal. Ernie will go to the University of Kansas to continue her varied activities . . . ARBISI, ROSE — A mighty athlete was Rosie. Among the sports she liked best were baseball, basketball, hockey, volley ball, and roller skating. Contrary to her athletic tendencies her favorite subject was a feminine one, cooking.

ARMSTRONG, WILLIAM F. — Willy is a model railroading addict and often worries about whether or not the Armstrong specials are meeting schedule. When he was at Paseo his favorite subject was gym. He has made no plans for the future . . . ARNDT, ALBERT EUGENE — Eugene was very proud to have a hand in the printing of the Paseo Press. His interests are many, including history, physiography, drafting, engineering, and architecture. He is a member of the Radio and Agassiz Clubs. He will attend the Rolla School of Mines. . . . BABBITT, VIRGINIA — Though Ginnie declares that music and athletics are her favorite occupations, she still intends to make some man a good secretary. This versatile lady was a member of the Iota Literary Society.

BACHOS, VIRGINIA — We have a future Helen Hayes in our midst, no less. Ginnie desires to become an actress and will study the drama in New York. She has had a little practical experience in that she was in assemblies and the Pepperade. Despite this she finds time now and then to see a certain tall, blond, and handsome fellow. Could it be she intends to combine a career and homemaking? . . . BAESE, WALTER WILLIAM — Walt must like to build things and no doubt has a creative turn of mind as he will be in the construction business in a few years, and he states that drafting is his favorite subject. He gained a little experience along these lines as a member of the stage crew . . . BAILEY, NELL — Tiny received many honors in athletics when she attended Central High, but she is an artist at heart. She will enter the field of commercial art where she will dream up clothes for the feminine public of America, including us at Paseo.

BAKER, ROSALYN LEE — Even if Rosie's hobby is playing the piano she will abandon it for a career as a secretary. She was an office assistant her senior year; so this may have given her the idea. She was also an active member of the French Club . . . BARNETT, DOROTHY JEAN — Dot thinks skating in any form is the best way to keep fit. Despite this athletic tendency, botany seems to be the subject she likes most. She will join many of her friends when she goes to Junior College next year . . . BEEMAN, ONEIDA JUNE — Oneida was president of the Muir Club and an active member of the German and Sociology Clubs. She states that history and the biological sciences appeal to her, and she expects to teach them. She was an Honor Roll student and will attend Teachers College.

BACHOS BAESE BAILEY
BAKER BARNETT BEEMAN
BEKEMEIER BENNETT BERRY

BEKEMEIER, SHIRLEY MARY — Becky seems to be one of those people who enjoys being a mixer as she was a Girl Reserve and a Pep-Deb. She lists dancing and roller skating as her hobbies. She will enter the field of nursing, but first will attend Junior College . . . BENNETT, FRANCES — The Auto Club held Frances's attention along with her hobby of collecting china dogs. She was president of her homeroom and thought speech and English her favorite studies. To be a buyer is her ambition. She will attend Huff's Business College in preparation for her career . . . BERRY, ROBERT W. — Bob lists physiography as his favorite subject and consequently he belonged to the Agassiz Club. He will go to J.C. where he will study electrical engineering. He was on the Traffic Squad.

BIGGERSTAFF, ALICE ANN — Alice, a new student of our school, is very much engrossed in art work, as it is her hobby and favorite subject. She hopes to be a buyer for a department store and will attend the University of Kansas City . . . BLANDO, MARIE ELIZABETH — Marie is so very sorry to leave Paseo, because she had so many interests here, including the Peppy Pirates, the Spanish Club, and her language and English classes. She takes some consolation in the fact that she may go to St. Mary's . . . BLANTON, RICHARD CLIFTON — Serious things seem to occupy Dick's mind as he is a member of the H-Y, took part in the Freshman Induction; thinks stamps, radio, and English very interesting. He will study law at K. C. U.

BLISS, GERALDINE JOYCE — Gerry was very athletic, taking three years of gym and having as her hobby, ice-skating. She was vice-president of her homeroom and thought clothing her best subject. She will attend some business college . . . BLOCK, JAMES — Jim participated in a number of activities while in Paseo. He was president of his homeroom, a member of the Sociology Club, Hi-Y, and an usher. He also took part in the Pepperade and Freshman Induction. As he thinks aviation a good field to enter, he will study aviation mechanics . . . BLUCHER, MARGARET — Peggy was an Honor Roll student and thought Latin her most fascinating subject. She was a Thicion and held two homeroom offices, secretary and vice-president. In her spare time she collects silver spoons. Next year J. C. will see Peggy on its campus.

BOEGNER, RICHARD LOUIS — Dick was such a modest fellow he would not tell us much about himself, but he did say he collected stamps and coins. His destination is Junior College . . . BOHN, BEVERLY WADDELL — Bev must have an unusual interest in things Spanish as it is her favorite subject and she was a member of both Spanish clubs and to top it all off she desires to become an interpreter. In her spare time she collects dogs, goes ice-skating, and enjoys the activities of the Zetas . . . BOSWORTH, JUANITA — Though she plans to be a stenographer and states that shorthand is her favorite subject, Juanita is a member of the Home Economics Club. Maybe she is just versatile. In her spare time she likes to skate.

BOUTROSS, GEORGE JOSEPH — Boot simply says that science is his favorite subject. So we had better leave him to his bottles, test tubes, globes, and compasses because some day he may be a famous scientist and we can say we knew him when . . . BREED, ELIZABETH ANN — Betty is a very intelligent soul, being a perennial member of the Highest Honor Roll, president of the A.A.U.W., senior triangle of the Girl Reserves, and a junior member of the National Honor Society. To top it all off this scholar is treasurer of the Zetas . . . BRENNAN, CATHERINE ROSE — Catherine's interests are essentially feminine in that she has been in two fashion shows and thinks the Choral Club her favorite activity. She will attend the Kansas City College of Commerce and become a secretary.

BRENNAN, FRANCIS THOMAS — Francis is one of those good-natured people that answers to almost any name. He was one of our football lettermen his senior year. As he plans to become an engineer, he was interested in mathematics and was a member of the Slide Rule Club . . . BRICKELL, GEORGE WILLIAM — This young fellow's hobby, talking, will help him in his chosen profession, that of the law. He is very athletic, too, in that he likes to wrestle and dance (no connection), and earned a basketball letter while attending Lathrop . . . BRONSTEIN, ANNA — This lady seems to be one of those rare people who can combine a career and homemaking, as she is planning to study business even though her foremost interest is cooking.

BROSNAHAN, DONNA ANN — Donna distinguished herself by winning the Police essay contest. We do not very often have a person who does this in an inter-school activity. She was a Girl Reserve, a Pep-Deb, and was treasurer of the Cynthians. She will continue to pursue her educational career at K. C. U. . . . BROWN, BETTY ELAINE — This young lady must like irregular verbs and all such, as she declares that French is her favorite subject, and she was very active in the Fleur de Lis. Her other activities included the Thicions, Student Council, and the Pepperade. She will attend M. U. . . . BROWN, JOSEPH B. — Bud is one of those rare people that prefer the wide-open spaces to city comforts, and consequently he will be a farmer. He was a member of the Traffic Squad and sergeant-at-arms of his homeroom.

BROWN, MARILYN E. — Lynne does not participate in sports but thinks watching them is all right. She spends much of her time studying art, as she plans to attend the Kansas City Art Institute where she will study costume designing . . . BROWN, MARTIN GENE — Marty is a scientist and plans to go into the field of aeronautical engineering, which he will study at Michigan University. He is a member of the Slide Rule Club, French Club, and the Sabers and Stripes. He has recently earned a commission in the R.O.T.C. . . . BROWNING, CHARLOTTE MARIE — This talented little dancer was majorette, a Cynthian, a member of the Spanish Club, secretary of the Entertainer's Club, and a Student Council representative. She plans to continue her dancing although she will attend Teachers College.

BUFFINGTON, ROBERT K. — Buff is a confirmed joiner and plans to continue to be one at Baker before he becomes a forest ranger and must live alone. He attended meetings of the Engineers, El Ateneo, Hi-Y, the Student Council, the Press Staff, the band, and is also on the Traffic Squad . . . BURCH, HELEN MARIE — Helen declares she enjoys readin' n' ritin', but she does not mention the usual mathematics. Sociology was her favorite subject, and she regularly attended the Sociology Club meetings and was president of her speech class. She will attend K. C. U. and study medicine . . . BURGESS, JUNE LEE — Monkey is best noted because of an outside activity, that of the church, as she holds offices in the church organizations and is always ready to lend her services to them. She will pursue a secretarial career after leaving Huff's Business College. She was a member of the Choral and Agassiz Clubs, and enjoyed her cooking and history classes.

BURNETT, DOROTHY ANN — Dancing seems to be the very pillar on which Dotty Ann rests, as it is her hobby, favorite subject, and her chosen career. She also was a member of the Auto Club . . . CALHOUN, MARIANNE — Tizzie's main claim to fame is that she was the senior girl in the Freshman Induction. She is the athletic type, listing horseback riding and swimming as her favorites. She was treasurer of the Thicions, vice-president of the Parliamentary Law Club, a member of El Ateneo, and the Auto Club. She will go to Park College before taking up a career in art . . . CARLETON, LOUISE — Louise was in many fashion shows, much to the advantage of the aforementioned shows. She was a cowgirl in the Pepperade, and she furthered her social life in being a Girl Reserve, a member of El Ateneo and the reporter for the Iotas.

CARR, HAROLD SIDNEY — Sid is one of our foremost bowlers, tennis players, and generally good fellows. He is an officer of the Auto Club. He says that his favorite subjects are the sciences, so maybe he will continue these studies when he reaches M. U. . . . CARR, JOHN W. — Another one of the up-and-coming boys who wants to enter the field of aviation is John. He is very modern in all his other ways of life as he is a sports fan and found sociology a very important subject in this day and age . . . CARR, MARYLEE — Marylee is very athletic, as she likes horseback riding, ice-skating, and watching all others play games. On the social side, she likes to drive and dance.

CHAPPLE, BETTY LOU — Betty is evidently a patient soul as she intends to teach kindergarten. She is a Girl Reserve, a Pep-Deb, and a member of the Agassiz Club and band. Betty held homeroom offices and says that American History is her favorite subject . . . CHEIFETZ, HOWARD — Howard attended Northeast his first two years, but he has been doing very well since coming here. He is a member of the Chess Club and the Slide Rule Club. He will study chemical engineering at K. U. . . . CHILDS, MARY JO — Mary would evidently like to join the ranks of the Kitty Foyles of the country, as she says she wants to be a typist or telephone operator. Her spare time is taken up with collecting candlesticks.

CHRISMAN, HELEN FRANCES — Chris varied her club activities as she was vice-president of the Home Economics Club and attended the meetings of the Muir and Pep Clubs. Some employer will have rare luck in obtaining Helen as his stenographer . . . CLARK, THOMAS A. — Clarksie is best noted as the "army fella" with one flat foot. This did not keep him from becoming a lieutenant and a member of the Saber and Stripes. He is a golf letterman and on the Traffic Squad. At first we thought he just didn't live right, but we guess he does . . . CLARK, THOMAS C. — "Pro" gains his nickname because he is so talented along golfing lines. He is on the golf team and has become a member of the Lettermen's Club for that reason. From one extreme to the other, Tom was the priest in the pageant, "Why the Chimes Rang."

COLDSNOW, KEITH THOMAS — Snow held many homeroom offices in woodworking, his favorite subject. He was interested in science to the extent that he was a member of the Muir Club one year. Baseball statistics consume his spare time . . . COLEMAN, ROBERT LEE — Bob says he hopes to be a singer, but we think he is much too modest as his singing in the A Cappella Choir and assembly shows his great talent. Just in case he cannot be a singer, he is studying mathematics. As for organizations, he was president of the Freshman Auto Club and an Engineer. He also kept his fellow Traffic Squad members entertained with his songs . . . COLLINS, PATRICIA MAY — Patty, a very pretty lady, will no doubt be a success in her chosen field, modeling. Some day she will be known as the Kansas City John Power's girl. She intends to continue her studies at K.C.U.

COMBS, ROBERT C. — Hedy didn't feel so good the day he filled out his senior questionnaire and said as much. Despite his physical condition, he gave us the information that he is one of our football lettermen and that he will again play football at Rockhurst . . . CONNELL, FOWLER WILLIAMS — We shall refrain from stating Fowler's nickname as this annual is also for freshmen consumption. Despite all this, Fowler was a very studious fellow. He was sergeant-at-arms of the Virgilians, on the Honor Roll, and Press Staff, and has been out for track for four years . . . CONWAY, LEWIS — Lou, characteristically boyish, states that his outstanding occupation is playing and watching basketball and football. His most absorbing classes were the sciences.

COOPER, BERNADINE ANN — Bernie is a very fashionable person, as she was in the fashion show, plans to be a costume designer, and will go to the Art Institute. Clothing is her favorite subject, and her hobby is the same as her proposed career. She was a Student Council representative, and belonged to the Muir Club and Girl Reserves . . . CORBIN, JIM — Jim's sunny nature is his best claim to fame. He likes all his subjects, his hobby is having fun, and last but most important his main ambition is to become a man. These traits of his have made him president of the A Cappella Choir, Hi-Y and Juntos, and he had a part in the Traffic Squad and Student Council affairs . . . CORDRY, VIRGINIA LOU — Ginnie was a joiner of the first order as she was president of Iotas, the freshman triangle of Girl Reserves and a member of the Verse Speaking Choir, the A Cappella Choir, the Auto Club, and the Talent Club. She was also in two Pepperades and three fashion shows.

CRAMER, GEORGE ALFRED — Pierre used his broad shoulders for more than looks, since he won football and basketball letters. He was also a lieutenant of the Traffic Squad, vice-president of the Hi-Y, and expects to attend J. C. . . . CROCKETT, SHIRLEY IRENE — Good music is to Shirley as important as food is to a shipwrecked man. It is her hobby, and favorite subject. She took part in assemblies, the A Cappella Choir, and the Choral Club. She does have some other interests as she is on the Honor Roll, president of her homeroom, is a member of the Cynthians, and Auto Club. She will continue her music as she goes on through life . . . DAFFORN, ROBERT WARREN — Bob held all sorts of offices in the following organizations: the Traffic Squad, the Juntos, the Spanish Club, the Hi-Y, the Parliamentary Law Club, and his homerooms. He was above all an officer of his Junior Class. Bob is another one of the boys who will attend Baker University.

DANBURY, HAROLD — Harold is a very good mixer as we shall soon see, so he should be very successful in the saleswork that he plans to make his career. As for his mixing activities, he was the president of the Engineers, vice-president of Sabers and Stripes, and of his homeroom. His main work was done on the stage crew and as captain in the R.O.T.C. . . . DAVIS, ALBERT — Albert, though very small in stature, has a very large range of activities. He is in the band, was president of his homeroom for two years, will study electrical engineering at Junior College, and collects souvenirs . . . DAVIS, FRANCES ELLEN — Although she plans to be a stenographer, clothing is her favorite subject and sewing her hobby. Her athletic endeavors consist of all kinds of skating.

DEKRUYFF, MARJORIE ANN — Margie would have the world know that chewing gum is her hobby. Outside of that she managed to become president of the Peppy Pirates, a member of the Student Council and Muir Club, as well as making the difficult Honor Roll. She was in a fashion show and says that sewing is her favorite subject . . . DeMASTERS, JOHN — Lo and behold! Another golfer who wants to become a professional is in our midst. That is his hobby, and he lettered in golf. He was an Engineer, an R.O.T.C. sergeant and was a member of the Muir Club, Hi-Y, the Lettermen's Club, and Sabers and Stripes . . . DEMING, ELIZABETH ANN — Betty's favorite subjects were Latin and Foods, so she followed this up in her extra-curricular affairs. She was treasurer of the Virgilians and a Ciceronian. She plans to be a dietitian. She was a Peppy Pirate.

DENISTON, PAULINE LILLIAN — Art is the main thing in the life and work of Paul. At school, art was her favorite subject and she was in the art service group that decorates the showcases and the stage scenery. In the future she will go to some art college and teach art after that . . . DePETRE, GERALDINE — Gerry is a very talented dancer and will make dancing her career, but she is also a good artist, so she might change her mind and go to the Kansas City Art Institute . . . DeSHON, LILLIAN — Lillian liked sports. She was manager of girls' basketball and won a shield. In her spare time she swims, and rides horseback. She will be an interior decorator and expects to attend the Kansas City Art Institute.

DICKEY, DONALD ROSS — Slim is best noted as the only good basketball player who can still keep his perfect pompadour. He should be able to continue performing this feat at Baker. He is also in the Hi-Y and his hobby is photography . . . DON CARLOS, JEAN — Jean, a beauteous blonde, will be about the best looking secretary a man could have. She is a member of the Zetas, the Girl Reserves, and Auto Club, and lent herself to the cast of the Pepperade. Her hobbies are the usual ones of dancing and collecting menus . . . DOUDRICK, ELSIE CLAIRE — Claire liked all commercial subjects, but was also a member of the Home Economics Club. She was a member of the Muir and French Clubs, and dances and collects stamps in her spare time.

DOUDRICK, JOHN EDWIN — Jack successfully combined his two main interests, those of sports and newswriting. He was sports editor of the Paseo Press, and official scorekeeper of the basketball team. His main accomplishment was the winning of the National Quill and Scroll sportswriting contest . . . DRAKE, BETTY LOUISE — Bettina has felt the call of help of the Red Cross and is learning to knit. Her ambition is an equally humane one, as she will become a nurse on leaving J. C. . . . DUFF, SHIRLEY — The old Romans thought that music and mathematics were closely akin, and Shirley seems to think the same; her favorite subjects were the A Cappella Choir and mathematics.

DUNCAN, MARIAN WARREN — Skeesix is beyond a doubt the most versatile girl we know. She has been an officer in these organizations: the Cynthians, the Virgilians, the Ciceronians, and the Agassiz Club. She has also been on the Honor Roll. She goes horseback riding and twirls batons. She will go to the University of Kansas City and later will become a writer . . . DUNN, FLOYD — Flo will become either a civil or mechanical engineer, so he finds mechanical drawing and physics his dish. In his spare time he is a stamp collector and goes in for athletics as a player as well as spectator . . . DWORETSKY, MARVIN ISADORE — If ever you see a museum of oddities of the loud variety coming down the street you may be sure it is Marvin; as he finds his main enjoyment in acquiring ornaments for his car. This is no doubt a harmless occupation, but it might be frightening to some.

EDGINGTON, FORREST ROGER — Frosty is another boy who saves girls' pictures as a hobby, but he is man enough to admit it. He was a member of the German Club and held a couple of offices in the Auto Club. As he plans to be a chemist, chemistry was his favorite subject . . . EISEN, PEGGY — Peggy plans to be a buyer for a department store and has already done a great deal to prepare herself for that job. She has been in two fashion shows and is very much interested in the clothing department. Her hobbies are tennis playing and ballroom dancing. She was a member of the Home Economics Club . . . ELLIS, DEWEY ALLAN — Dewey states simply that he likes anything to do with the Army and backs up his statement thus; he is captain of the rifle team and a captain in the R.O.T.C., and it is his favorite subject. He is president of Sabers and Stripes, and collects guns as a hobby. He was also in the Engineers.

ELSTEIN, PAULINE ADAIR — Paul has studied for her proposed career, that of modeling, by taking art and expression and joining the El Ateneo, the Silhouette Club, and the Entertainers Club. She will represent Paseo at the University of Southern California next year . . . EPP, WALTER H. — Walter must be a bashful boy as all he would say for himself was that he had taken drafting for four years and plans to be a piano player. As he is such a good musician, we will excuse him by saying it is an artist's privilege to do as he pleases . . . EPSTEIN, STANLEY GALE — Eppy is another one who will study law at M.U. His other activities were very different, though. He was a member of the Lettermen's Club, the Spanish Club, the Camera Club, and the Traffic Squad. His hobbies are photography and gardening.

EVERS, BETTILEE — Betts will try to do something with us Paseo glamour girls when she gets out of Julian's Beauty School. If she can make ye old correspondent look like Hedy Lamarr, we will forgive her for her hobby of collecting toy dogs and novelty pins . . . EVILSIZER, ALICE ELIZABETH — Alice, as one of the hard working literary editors of the glorious Paseon, receives our sympathy, and if she wants to real badly, we expect her fellow members of the Cynthians, German Club, Honor Roll, and Student Council will let her cry on their shoulders. She was also president of her homeroom . . . EWALD, PHILIP HOWARD — Dutch was a president of the Juntos, as well as being in the Spanish Club, on the Student Council, and Traffic Squad. This is getting to be an old story, but he will go to J.C.

FERGUSON, CHARLES — Chuck, like many of the members of the stronger of the species finds his greatest enjoyment in hunting and fishing. He will represent Paseo in the Navy in a few years. Chuck was a member of the Sociology Club and metal work was his favorite subject . . . FLEMING, DOROTHY IRENE — Pooch will be a professional musician in a few years and in the meantime is practicing for the day when her ambition will be realized by being in her church orchestra. Her hobby is another fine art, that of photography . . . FLETCHER, ROBERT — Fletch was a boy that got out and did things such as being a first lieutenant in the R.O.T.C., a Student Council representative, a member of Sabers and Stripes, Traffic Squad, and Book Crew.

FOSTER, AILEEN FRANCES — Skid has brought an honor to Paseo by being elected to the highest office in one of our Rainbow Assemblies. At school she was on the Paseon, in the Girl Reserves, Spanish Club, Student Council, and the cast of the Pepperade. She will become a nurse on leaving Park College . . . FREEMAN, DORA ANN — Doake, more brainy than any girl could be beautiful, was on both Honor Rolls, a junior member of the National Honor Society and an A.A.U.W. girl. She has a great feeling for humanity as she was a charity speaker, a Health Room assistant and service chairman of the Girl Reserves. She collects poetry and will become a teacher. She was president of the German Club, her homeroom and a member of the Student Council and Cynthians . . . FRENTROP, RICHARD WESLEY — Bowling, ping-pong, and collecting stamps are the main diversions of this busy business man. He does not know what school he will attend but he is quite sure it will be a business college.

FRIEDBERG, MITCHELL ROSS — Tyrone, despite his frivolous nickname, has occupations of the most serious type. He is president of the Stamp Club, and was a main speaker in the Auto Club assembly. His favorite subject is a deep one, history, and he will continue his education at the Kansas City Art Institute . . . FRIES, JERRIE ELIZABETH — Jerrie was so interested in public speaking that all of her activities were along these lines. She was a charity speaker as well as being one of Paseo's Peppy Parliamentarians . . . FRYE, MARY CHRISTINA — Mary, though she is very businesslike, (she was business manager and vice-president of the Auto Club) is an artist at heart, as she plans to be a singer, was in the Silhouette Club and helped to decorate our stage on different occasions. She was also a Zeta.

GARDNER, BEVERLY — Beverly, alias Bevie, was a member of the Iotas, Silhouette Club, and Girl Reserves. She served terms as president and vice-president of her homeroom. She will be a commercial artist and will attend art school . . . GEIGER, NORMA JEAN — "Noje" may be able to use her psychology in dress designing, so the feminine public may have new and better outfits. She was vice-president of the Home Economics Club . . . GIDINSKY, SHIRLEY JEAN — Shirley plans to go to the University of Oklahoma. She has made quite a name for herself here. She was the studious type as is shown by her name being on the Honor Roll, and the roll call of the A.A.U.W., the French Club, the Auto Club, and the Press Staff.

GIERSTER, RICHARD L. — Whether or not there is any connection between Blackie's nickname and his work we do not know, but he does plan to be a printer on good old black and white. He was secretary of his homeroom and lists woodwork as his favorite subject . . . GILCHRIST, JUNE — We are proudest of Junie for being the art editor of this all mighty annual. She is very much the artist as she has helped with the scenery for the Pepperade, and states that this is one of her hobbies as well as being her prospective career. In her spare time she attends Cynthian meetings . . . GITNICK, EDWIN — Being a big, strong, ferocious football hero we know that Itzie's nickname is all in fun. This wolf in an adequate sheep's clothing (i.e. his name) will take up aviation mechanics as his lifework.

GOLDEN, W. GOLDEN, Z. GOLDSTEIN
GOTT GRASS GRIFFITHS
GROZOW GUTHRIE HAGAN
HAGGARD HALL HAMLET
HANSEN, E. HANSEN, J. HANSON, B.

GOLDEN, LAURENCE WAYNE — Wayne will become a naval aviator in a few years, if he has his own way about things. In the meantime he has contented himself by being a member of the Traffic Squad, Engineers, El Ateneo, Los Parlantes, the Auto Club, and the band . . . GOLDEN, ZELDA ALICIA — Zelda, though she wants to become a singer of popular songs, will go to Huff's Secretarial School. Like her brother she has many and varied interests, including the Iotas, the A Cappella Choir, and drawing. She also was in both Pepperades and is a member of the Talent Club . . . GOLDSTEIN, RICHARD — Flash, because of his coat and shirts, will become a man in white and forsake the reason for his nickname. His hobby is microscopes, which is very appropriate, and he is also president of the Microscope Club. He was a member of the Muir Club, the band, and reporter for the Press.

GOTT, BEVERLY JEAN — Beyond a shadow of a doubt Beverly will be a great and famous dancer, and we shall all be able to say we knew her when she was a Peppy Pirate, a member of the French and Entertainers Clubs, the Student Council, and the Honor Roll. She participated in the Pepperade and was in many assemblies . . . GRASS, KATHRYN — In Katie we have a most staunch California supporter, so much so that she plans to make her future home there. She was in the Thicions, the French and Discussion Clubs, on the Student Council, a member of the Honor Roll, on this Paseon Staff, an officer of her homeroom, and in the Pepperade . . . GRIFFITHS, JANE — Jane will make her future patients well by merely giving them a look at her gorgeous blonde personage, as she will become a nurse after leaving William Woods' campus.

GROZOW, LEONARD ROBERT — Shorty, who is in reality over six feet tall, was a great public speaker here at school, as he represented Paseo in the oratorical contest. He was also a member of the Sabers and Stripes, the Sociology Club, and the Traffic Squad . . . GUTHRIE, CLAYTON W. — Clayton, one of our young men about school, was a captain in the R.O.T.C. and thereby a member of the Sabers and Stripes. He was also a member of the Engineers, the Traffic Squad, and a member of the Student Council . . . HAGAN, MAUDELL — This swell little bundle of personality was a Peppy Pirate, vice-president and secretary for the Fleur de Lis and Talent Club. She helped make the Pepperade a success and participated many times on school programs. As we all know, dancing is her favorite subject.

HAGGARD, SHIRLEY JEAN — Haggy, contrary to her nickname, made a very attractive nurse's assistant. Her hobby is collecting wishbones, and we are sure you have seen her wishbone bracelet. She plays in a swing band and is a member of the Home Economics Club and the secretary of the Iotas . . . HALL, BETTY JEAN — Betty will be a news illustrator in a few years. We like to have such a progressive girl in our midst. She was a Thicion, as well as being a member of the Girl Reserves, Spanish and Sociology Clubs . . . HAMLET, PATRICIA VEREA — Pat was our swimming manager and also declares that this perfect exercise is her hobby. As she liked Spanish, she plans to be a secret-translator. She was a member of the Silhouette and Agassiz Clubs.

HANSEN, EDWARD W. — Swede, he really is a Dane, lettered in track and was one of our football heroes. As he plans to be a marine air pilot, he will go to Pensacola on leaving J.C. He was a member of Keats and the Student Council . . . HANSEN, JACQUELYN — Jackie will show the traveling public what a personality she has by becoming an air hostess. She showed us by being the perennial secretary of the Thicions, and a member of the Student Council. She was also on the Honor Roll, the mixer and ring committees, president of the Mask and Wig, and business manager of the Press . . . HANSON, BEVERLY JEAN — Bev's favorite study was Spanish and she was consequently a member of El Ateneo. As her other loves are horses and dogs, she indulges in the masculine sport of hunting.

HARRINGTON, MARY THEADORA — Next year K.C.U. will have this busy girl on its campus. Teddy was a member of the Student Council, Muir Club, Thicions, and Mask and Wig. In her spare time she dances, sews, and swims . . . HASKINS, CLARA LOUISE — Whether or not reading mystery novels has made Clara have romantic visions of South America we would not know, but she does want to work in an American embassy there. She is an Iota and Health Room assistant and is a member of the El Ateneo, Highest Honor Roll, and Auto Club . . . HASSETT, HOWARD JEROME — Howdy says that his hobbies are too numerous to mention and he thinks his subjects are about the same. We guess, however, that he must have found biology a little out of the ordinary as he plans to be a florist and is a member of the Muir Club.

HAWLEY, SUZANNE — Suzy is one person that admits that her study hall nap is her most important part of the day. It must not have been too bad, though, as she woke up long enough to become a Zeta, a Girl Reserve, and a member of El Ateneo, as well as winning a prize in a fashion show . . . HELD, MARY JANE — Mary is another Thicion who has made a name for herself. She was a member of El Ateneo, the Auto Club and Student Council, and was a prize pupil in the science department. She will go to Sarachon Hooley and become a stenographer . . . HILL, KERMIT E. — Kermit says he will go anywhere but Junior College next year. He was not so set against Paseo, though, as he was president of El Ateneo and Los Parlantes and was a member of Keats and the Quill and Scroll.

HOARE, ALAN — "A" would have us all know that he requested to stay here for five years and as soon as he leaves he will immediately enter the school of hard knocks. He was a lieutenant in the R.O.T.C. and a Student Council representative. He was also sergeant-at-arms of the Engineers, the Spanish Club, and the Mask and Wig . . . HOLLOWAY, VIRGINIA LEE — Another woman of the air is in our midst, as Ginny will be a very charming and pretty air hostess. She will go to Kansas City University before taking to the air . . . HOPKINS, ELIZABETH — To scoop and to snoop is Elizabeth's ambition, or, in other words, she plans to be a girl reporter. She was a member of the Press Staff, Peppy Pirates, and the Muir Club. Perhaps she reported the activities of these groups.

HUFF, GLORIA LEE — Gloria's beautiful blonde countenance graced our fashion shows for three years. In addition to this she was secretary for the Cynthians, and member of the following organizations: the El Ateneo, the Press Staff, and A Cappella Choir . . . HURD, DONALD — Aerials, kilocycles, stations, and everything else connected with radio are in Donald's mind at all times, as he plans to enter the field of radio. We hope he will be the person that will successfully bring us television . . . HUTCHINS, MARGARETE ANNE — Margarete is a rather retiring person, but she has a quiet way that has made her well thought of by her fellow members of the Girl Reserves, Cynthians, and A Cappella Choir.

HYATT, RUBY JEAN — Ruby has a very exact subject for a favorite one, that of bookkeeping, so we wonder why she plans to be a beauty culturist and work with the ever-changing female fancy. She does, however, more power to her . . . HYTEN, WARREN FELTON — Though Aillen is foremost in his thoughts at all times— or so he says—Hydee Didee (guess who hung that on him) has done a great deal. He was president of Engineers, and vice-president of Hi-Y and the Student Council, as well as being chairman of the charity speakers and a football letterman. He will become a doctor on leaving Drake University . . . INMAN, NANCY LEE — Nancy, a very charming Thicion, will show the University of Kansas just how good she is next year. She was president of the Home Economics Club and her homeroom and a member of El Ateneo. That is a very good recommendation for anybody.

ISRAEL, FRANK L. — Issy's hobby was—well, er—. Oh, his favorite subject was—er, well—. To be honest, we just don't know, for he didn't tell us. But we do know that he was in the A Cappella Choir . . . JEDEL, HARRISON — Oklahoma University is Harry's destination when he starts all over again next year. He was a formidable Traffic Squad member, but weakened somewhat for art, his favorite subject and hobby. He must have a soft spot in his heart for freshmen . . . JOHNSON, BETTY — Betty liked dancing and Glenn Miller's music (ah!), but there's nothing peculiar about her, for don't we all? Her favorite subject was English, which should prove valuable to her in her probable career, office work. This diversity of interests is what we like to see in our Paseo students and graduates.

JOHNSON, DOROTHY LILLIAN — Dottie's three nicknames almost kept up with her activities which were Zetas, secretary of the Junior Auto Club, and membership in the Entertainer's and Home Economics Clubs. She played bass drum in the band, and twirled baton as a sideline. Such talent is rare coming in such large doses . . . JONES, VIRGINIA — Choral Club, Iotas, Girl Reserves, and homeroom offices were Ginny's main school activities. Swimming, singing, and baton twirling diverted her spare moments. She was in the fashion show two years, and won second prize when she was a sophomore. It looks as if Jones will be a famous name some day, regardless of all the remarks made about it . . . JOSEPH, BETTY — To look at Betty's hobbies, listening to the radio and going to shows, one might think that she was lazy, but her interest in swimming and ice-skating proved the opposite. She was a Girl Reserve, in the Freshman Induction Ceremony, and plans to take up Journalism at M. U. next year.

JOSEPH, JUNIVERE — Junivere's favorite subject was shorthand, and she plans to attend a business school. She was on the General Honor Roll. She was beyond a doubt one of the smallest of Paseo graduates, but this has not kept her from doing many important things . . . JOSLIN, MERRILL — Merrill evidently expected us to read between the lines on his questionnaire, but seeing as there weren't any lines to read between, we can tell you nothing about his school activities. After all we aren't Yehoudi . . . KAHN, MIRIAM GENE — French was this girl's favorite subject, and this may account for her nickname, Mimi. Her hobby was music. She was an office assistant.

KARBANK, BARNEY A. — He's Adam to friends, a member of the Traffic Squad, president of the Radio Club, and a member of the Camera Club. Amateur radio is his hobby, and electrical engineering is his expected vocation. He will go to J. C. . . . KATZEFF, FLORENCE BEVERLY —Florence always looks as if she has just stepped from the pages of "Vogue," and several features of her wardrobe are creations of her own hand. She was secretary of her homeroom. K. C. U. will see her next year . . . KINCAID, OSCAR F. — Ossie expects to "fly high" some day as an aviator. But here at Paseo, he was a loyal cornetist in the band and was elected president of that organization. He was an Engineer, an Eagle Scout, and will attend Baker University.

KINNEY, GERALDINE — Jerry likes to plink at the keys of the piano and also the typewriter. She was a Zeta, secretary of her homeroom, and will go to J. C. . . . KIRIAKOS, MAYHUE — Wahoo's main interests at school centered themselves in printing. But outside of school all kinds of sports hold his attention . . . KITTELL, CLARENCE JOHN — Jack proved to us that he had definite executive characteristics, for he was president of the Auto Club, and vice-president of the Muir Club. For relaxation he goes to picture shows.

KLEINSTEUBER KOBS KRAMER
KRIGEL KUPPER LANTZ
LAPIDES LARBERG LAWRENCE
LAYTON LEAVELL LEFLER
LEIBINGER LEVINE LIBBY

KLEINSTEUBER, ALFRED TODD — Tiny's nickname is another that is all in fun as his bright red hair is a good 6' 2" from his stocking feet. All his interests are along the intellectual lines as he was secretary-treasurer of the Sociology Club and parliamentarian of the Slide Rule Club. His favorite subject was chemistry . . . KOBS, LILA CLAIRE — Lila gave a very good reason for taking a masculine subject like physics, as she plans to be a nurse and will enter St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing. Her diversions are collecting Indian head pennies and attending Girl Reserve meetings . . . KRAMER, VELMA MARY — Kram was the very charming president of the Thicions and also lent her charms to the Agassiz Club, the Girl Reserves, and the Parliamentary Law Club. She held various offices in these clubs.

KRIGEL, EDWIN MILFORD — Red distinguished himself by doing a grand job of impersonating Patrick Henry in the Patriotic assembly. He also played the violin in the orchestra for four years and has entertained his fellow members of the French Club with this instrument. He was president of his homeroom . . . KUPPER, ALBERT B. — Kup is undecided as to where he will go to school and what he will do afterwards, but if he keeps up the good work he has done here, he will do all right. He was a member of the Slide Rule Club, the El Ateneo, the Radio Club, both Honor Rolls, the Quill and Scroll, and the track squad, besides being Photographic Editor of the Paseon . . . LANTZ, JOHN ROBERT — Jackson has given going into the government service as an aviation mechanic some serious thought, as he is very good at metal work and has decided to do metal tooling, even if he doesn't do it for Uncle Sam.

LAPIDES, LEONARD — Bud is another prospective lawyer, and he will study the law at K. C. U. He started his study by taking speech and joining the Discussion Club. He was on the Traffic Squad, the Honor Roll, and president of his homeroom and a Student Council representative . . . LARBERG, H. ALVIN — Lofty is one of the few boys at Paseo who has been in one of our fashion shows. He also lent his presence to the following groups: the band, the Hi-Y, and the Auto Club . . . LAWRENCE, PHYLLIS IONE — Phyl will attend Central Missouri State Teachers College where she will continue her academic and musical studies in preparation for a career of teaching. At Paseo she distinguished herself by being on the Honor Roll and working in Mr. Shepherd's office. She belonged to the Agassiz, Muir, and Entertainer's Club.

LAYTON, DOROTHY JEANE — Dotty will stop her dancing when she goes to Junior College because she wants to become a very good nurse. We certainly hope she succeeds in this worthy endeavor . . . LEAVELL, LOIS ILEEN — Louie tried her charms on prospective members of the Girl Reserves as she was the membership chairman of one of the triangles. She was the treasurer of the Cynthians, and vice-president of her homeroom. She was a hardworking office assistant second hour and was on the Student Council . . . LEFLER, LORETTA FRANCES — Larry plans to go to Huff's Business College to become a secretary, even if she is a talented dressmaker as is shown by her winning two prizes in fashion shows. Her hobby is collecting menus.

LEIBINGER, GEORGE EDWARD — George is a very quiet fellow, but this does not keep him from having many worthwhile occupations; maybe his silence helps. He was secretary of the German Club, on the Honor Roll, and was a Student Council representative. He will go to J. C. to carry on this work . . . LEVINE, STANLEY — Freshman year: Student Council representative. Sophomore year: Muir Club. Junior year: Boys' Home Economics Club. Senior year: the Press Staff. This is Stanley's career at Paseo and we hope he does as well at Kansas City University next year . . . LIBBY, MARILYN JANE — Janie was president of the Home Economics Club and states sewing was her favorite subject. She was a prize winner in a fashion show. Among her other activities were the Muir Club and the Girl Reserves.

LITWIN, GLADYS RUTH — Glad is going to the University of Oklahoma along with many of her friends; so she should have a good time as well as keeping up the good work she started here by being on the Honor Roll and being reporter for the Press and her homeroom . . . LIVINGSTON, WILLIAM HUGH — We have another engineer in our midst who will begin his study along those lines at J. C. Livie naturally likes mathematics, but he also shows an interest in baseball and photography . . . LOGAN, JEAN ELOUISE — Jean is another one of our studious souls who will attend Junior College next year. On the lighter side, you will find her swimming in the summer, and ice-skating in the winter. Her various activities at school included art, stenography, zoology, and the not so serious Iota Literary Society.

LONG, JOSEPH ROBERT — Bob has two widely varied hobbies, those of music and taxidermy. Your correspondent would appreciate it along with the rest of his friends if he would warn us when he is in a mind for the latter. Seriously, if that is impossible for Mr. Long, he intends following his father's footsteps and be a journalist . . . LUSK, RICHARD DEAN — Dick's liking for R.O.T.C. made him a member of the Sabers and Stripes. His personality made him a valuable member of the Hi-Y, and his liking for business subjects will make him a valuable business administrator when he finishes at K. C. U. . . . McCARTHY, DORTHA JEAN — Dortha was vice-president of the Girl Reserve triangle her junior year as well as being secretary of the Cynthians. She was in the Spanish Club, president of her homeroom, and an alternate to the Student Council.

McCLARY, PATRICIA — Pat likes to save streetcar transfers, tinfoil, picture postcards, pennies, and sugar cubes. We do not exactly see why, but we do know that it must be all right as she is serious in other respects as she wants to be a laboratory technician . . . McCOOL, DOROTHY LOUISE — All of us who have seen Dottie Lou know that she will be the perfect model type, and she very wisely is entering that field. She was secretary of the Auto Club, treasurer of the Muir Club and a Girl Reserve for four years . . . McELYEA, KATHRYN D. — Kathryn has kept all her many friends amused with her witty remarks, for which she is well known. She was vice-president of the Cynthians and her homeroom as well as being an active Girl Reserve.

McGUIRE, HARRY — This capable member of the Paseon Staff was also one of our best students as he was on the Honor Roll. He carried his Paseon work into his club life, as he was in the Camera Club. His main diversion is bowling. He will probably go to K. C. U. next year . . . McKEEVER, PHILLIP — Keever says that no such animal as a favorite subject exists, but he says he wants to be a veterinarian like his pal, McPherson, though he is extremely undecided about his future school, listing Nebraska, Kansas State, and Illinois as possibilities. He was on the Traffic Squad, and manager of football, as well as being a Keats and a member of the Hi-Y . . . McKINLEY, AILEEN LOIS — Aileen is very positive that she will attend Baker University, thereby disproving the rule that it is a woman's privilege to change her mind. This miss was the initiator of the Peppy Pirates.

MAHONEY, F. H. JACK — Higher mathematics was the favorite subject for Irish, and he was consequently a member of the Slide Rule Club. He will use his mathematics to help him in his chosen career of aeronautical engineering and his hobby, building model gas airplanes. He was also on the Traffic Squad . . . MAHONEY, MARY JANE — Mary collects pictures of movie stars, but specifies that they must all be large ones. She no doubt gets some ideas from this concerning her chosen field, modeling . . . MALL, JACK — Jack very modestly states that he ran the Paseo Press his junior year, and if he does as good a job at Missouri University in journalism, he will come out with flying colors. He also states that he was on the first team football squad in 1940.

MAHONEY, J.	MAHONEY, M.	MALL

MALLIN, MELVIN — We suspect that Mel has a little more than his share of the masculine ego as his only form of exercise was running from women, and he intends to be the guiding light of General Motors. This is all according to his own story. At present he contents himself with the honorable occupation (though he calls it a hobby) of sacking potatoes in a grocery store . . . MANKAMEYER, FLOYD HENRY — Mac is primarily interested in sports and this interest takes many forms, as he was football manager, on the basketball team, and intends to be a sports announcer. Along the social lines, he was sergeant-at-arms of the Engineers and enjoys dancing . . . MARSH, ROSE MARIA — Suzy spends most of her time with her Rainbow sisters and watching baseball games. She plans to go to some business college.

MAUNTZ, DONALD ELDON — Donald distinguished himself by being one of our outstanding debaters and captain of the tennis team. These activities are very diverse, but he is very versatile, as he is a member of Keats, the Camera Club, Lettermen's Club, and the Traffic Squad. He plans to use his public speaking and become a lawyer . . . MEDOV, RHEATHA CHARLOTTE — Ricky will make a very beautiful addition to the stage in a few years. She obtained some experience for her proposed career by assisting in the assemblies and the Pepperade. She was a Thicion . . . METTES, ROBERT LEE — Blondie did not come to Paseo until his junior year, but since his hobby is making friends, he is creating quite a name for himself. He was in the Auto Club and was homeroom reporter. He has made no future plans.

MILLER, LEROY N. — Lee, though he liked history and American Government, will go to the University of Kansas City to study for a career in commercial art. His diversions in the last four years have consisted of photography, being reporter for his homeroom, and a Muir Club member . . . MILLER, RICHARD HARRISON — Dick is another one that has wisely used his high-school classes to help him with his future vocation, that of a metal worker. This was his favorite subject and hobby . . . MILLER, RICHARD J. — Dick will represent Paseo in the Marine Corps of our government. He has developed his mind for that job through mathematics, psychology, and participating in the Student Council, and El Ateneo affairs. He developed his mucles for this job by being on the track squad.

MILLER, WILLIAM WAYNE — Bill is one of our finest musicians as the teachers at the Conservatory of Music will find out next year. Naturally he was a member of the A Cappella Choir. To show that his musical ability is not all one-sided, he collects all the latest records . . . MOCK, SHIRLEY HELEN — Shirley's main testimonial is to the effect that her four years at Paseo were fun, and she is very sorry to leave. In addition to this, she says that she will go to K. C. U. or J. C.; that she liked her cooking classes best of all her studies; and that her hobbies are dancing, swimming and tennis . . . MOLLOY, PAT — Pat said that he helped Mr. Shepherd, but he doesn't say how. We wonder? He seemed to be a pretty nice fellow, though, as he was in the Silhouette Club and on the track team.

MONSON, LLOYD E. — In addition to being a Ciceronian and the Keatonian of the Keats, Lloyd furthered his intellectual progress by way of the Honor Roll, the Quill and Scroll, and a member of the Student Council. At present he is a member of the Traffic Squad . . . MOODY, BETSY — Just listen to this and you will see that Betsy is one of Paseo's most useful and busy girls. She was president of Quill and Scroll, secretary of the Pep-Debs, devotional chairman of the senior Girl Reserve Triangle, first-page editor of the Press, and earned a school letter, as well as being on the Honor Roll, on the Student Council, a Thicion, and a charity speaker . . . MOOR, FREDERICK LEE — Fred liked drafting and physics and radio so much he decided to enter a field where he could use all three of these—aviation. He does not vary from this a bit, as his only club activity was the Radio Club.

MOORE, DIXIE LEE — Dick is essentially a studious sort of person, as she is so absorbed in the study of the piano that she will make it her life work. Her other activities are equally serious. They consisted of being on the Honor Roll, in the Fleur de Lis, working in Mr. Shepherd's office, and planning to go to the University of Chicago . . . MOORE, JOHNNY JOE — Flash wants us to know that he is a regular patron of the Bijou Theatre, and his hobby is looking at good-looking girls. Despite the fact that his favorite subject is bookkeeping, he will study engineering at K.U. . . . MOORE, WANDA AMELITA — Snooks' hobby is collecting all kinds of dogs, regardless of their origin or constitution. She is sergeant-at-arms of the Iotas and a member of the Talent Club. She will attend Junior College.

MORREALE, CONNIE MARIE — Connie is very fond of singing and dancing, and she intends to use them in later life to win her bread and butter. She was one of our Peppy Pirates and was secretary of her homeroom . . . MORRIS, MARY JANE — Janie is one of our loyal members of the music department. She was in the band four years, and the orchestra two, but since she plans to make music her career, she has gained a great deal of experience. Her diversion is ice-skating . . . MOSLEY, MACK — Mack has not made up his mind whether or not he will be a journalist or a lawyer, but he does know that he will learn his profession at M.U. He is such a quiet fellow that we were quite surprised to learn that he collects firearms in his spare time.

MULLIKIN, LOUISE — Louise is a homegirl at heart, as she enjoys sewing, but she still wants to have a career in an office. Her athletics consist of only basketball, and her club activities are confined to the Muir Club . . . NATHAN, LUCILLE D. — Lucy, as a senior, isn't much larger than she was four years ago, when she portrayed the Freshman Girl in the first Freshman Induction Ceremony. She was one of the Literary Editors of the Paseon, a Thicion officer, and held various homeroom offices. Junior College is her destination for next year . . . NEARING, MARTHA — Marty must tell us if she dreams up her own smart outfits or not, as she plans to become a fashion designer. She lent her charming presence to the Zetas, the French Club, and the Sociology Club, of which she was reporter. She was president of her homeroom on two occasions.

NEIDERT, DOROTHY JEANNETTE — Dottie is best noted for her cheerful disposition and her pride in her baby brother. Her personality found expression in many ways as she was publicity chairman of the Girl Reserves, a Zeta, and won two prizes in the fashion shows. Last but most important, she was one of our finest debaters . . . NEMSER, ARLAN VICTOR — The radio waves have carried Frogear's voice twice during the year for school presentation. He was on the Traffic Squad, a member of the Muir Club, and is interested in anything concerning chemistry. He will go to Junior College . . . NEWELL, RICHARD — Dick isn't very warlike, but the army certainly appealed to him, as he was a lieutenant in the R.O.T.C., and was a member of the Sabers and Stripes. He was in the Parliamentary Law Club, Mask and Wig, reporter of his homeroom, and on the Press Staff. He was an Eagle Scout.

NOTHSTINE, STARLING RICHARD — Starling's nickname is the "Deacon"—if you want to know why, you'll have to ask him. He was a Keats, on the Traffic Squad, and was in the Band three years. He'll learn how to mind all the "p's and q's" of advertising . . . NOVASEL, BETTY — Outdoor life and nature study interested Betty, who was in the Agassiz and Muir Clubs. Her hobby is drawing, but she will enter Huff's Business School to train for secretarial work . . . O'CONNOR, FRANCIS JUNIOR — If you don't like music, don't say anything about it to Buddy because you would probably have an argument on hand, as he was concert master of the orchestra for two years, and intends to be a professional violinist. He was also interested in science.

OLDBERG, NILS STOCKFLETH MAGELSON — This Arkansas Sorghum Lapper belonged to the Entertainer's Club. His hobby is music, and his favorite subject is music, but in spite of all that, he intends to be a farmer . . . OPEL, CHARLES — Chuck's golden voice has caused many a sigh from his feminine listeners. He was a member of the A Cappella Choir. His second interest was in the Army where he was a member of the Sabers and Stripes. He plans to take up aviation as his lifework. He was an Engineer . . . OPPENHEIMER, IRENE — If Irene becomes a secretary as she plans and marries her boss, she will make him a very good homemaker, for she was in three fashion shows and held offices in the Home Economics Club, and her hobby is sewing. Physiology proved to be her favorite subject. Her homeroom elected her secretary.

O'SHEA, DOROTHY HELEN — Here's another kind-hearted girl who will follow the past Florence Nightingales to be a nurse. She was a regular Girl Reserve member and a Pep-Deb. Sports and music vie for top honors as her favorite hobby . . . OZAR, MILTON — In the near future one may see Milt in a little rubber apron mixing chemicals, if test tubes continue to fascinate him. On the little safer side, he prefers art as a hobby. He was an alternate to the Student Council and plans to attend the Kansas City College of Pharmacy . . . PALEN, RODNEY B. — Maybe Mike will be able to tell us the reason that people do the things they do, because his favorite subject was psychology. This should be useful to him in achieving his ambition of becoming a lawyer. He was in the band for four years.

PARK, RICHARD FRANK — This boy likes mathematics, and this accounts for his membership in the Slide Rule Club. He plans to be an engineer and will begin his training at Junior College . . . PELTZMAN, CHARLEEN — "Parlez-vous francais?" If you don't, just ask Charleen, who was president of the French Club. Her hobby is dramatics, which helped her to argue well on the Debate Team last year. She was president of her homeroom, and the Honor Roll carried her name frequently . . . PENNOCK, WAUNITA — Penny is one of those sentimental sort of souls who enjoys saving little things as remembrances. She will go to Burrough's school next year to become a comptometer operator. She was an Iota.

PETERSON, CHARLES F. — Locks was certainly a "club" man, belonging to the Keats Club, the Radio Club, the Auto Club, and the Slide Rule Club. He was the figure representing "Courage" in the Freshman Induction Ceremony, and was on the Traffic Squad . . . PETTIT, BILLY P. — The life of a soldier must have appealed to Bill as he was a senior captain of the R.O.T.C., treasurer of the Sabers and Stripes, and R.O.T.C. was his favorite subject. He expects to become an Army aviator. His other activities included treasurer of the Engineers, on the Stage Crew, and Traffic Squad . . . PHALING, GEORGE L. — Believe it or not, Fail really liked mathematics—even so far as to say that "trig" and geometry were his favorite subjects. When not playing around with such things as slide rules, he officiated in the Spanish Club. Next year he will settle down to the easy (?) life at J.C.

PICKENS, BETTY JEAN — Here is a girl who finds footwork more useful than headwork, as she likes to dance and will become a dress-sales clerk. Bookkeeping, she says, was her favorite subject, and she greatly enjoyed the Girl Reserve meetings . . . PICKETT, FREDERIC WILLIAM — Swinging a baton in front of a swing orchestra appeals to Buddy, as he has one of his own. He was in the A Cappella, the Agassiz Club, and was on the Traffic Squad . . . POLSKY, NORMAN — Curly particularly liked mathematics and was in the Slide Rule Club. The Army fascinated him also as he was a captain in the R.O.T.C., and his hobby was collecting pictures of infantry weapons. He was in the Spanish Club, on the Traffic Squad, and was reporter of his homeroom.

PORTER, EARL — Earl's dynamic personality blasted its way into the hearts of all of us in a very short time, as he came to Paseo just this year. He was editor of the Press, president of the Keats, a member of the Discussion and French Clubs, and Hi-Y. He will continue his study of journalism at M.U. . . . POWER, DOROTHY ANNE — Although Dottie's favorite subject happened to be public speaking, she has no ambitions to become an orator, but plans to take up secretarial work. She was vice-president of the Zetas, in the Mask and Wig and Pep Clubs, and a Girl Reserve member . . . PRATHER, DOROTHY ANN — Dottie was a very businesslike little girl, for she held offices in the Zetas, French Club, and Girl Reserves, and was a representative to the Student Council. She will attend K.C.U.

PRICE, ROSIE JEAN — Rosie showed a definite preference for English, and may continue the study of the language at Junior College next year. She was in the French Club, and a Girl Reserve member . . . PROCTOR, MILDRED — Midge's hobby of making friends helped her in her four years at Paseo, as she officiated in the Cynthians, Girl Reserves, and her homeroom. She was a member of the Muir Club, and will continue to study her favorite subjects, English and speech, at K.C.U. . . . PRUITT, NORMA JEAN — Women have invaded practically every masculine field, but Pat really has a unique and original idea. She wants and intends to establish a girls' military academy! If this doesn't consume all her time, she will either become a stenographer or a doctor's assistant. Bookkeeping, she confided, was her favorite subject.

PURCELL, CHARLES JOSEPH — Percy's head was often in the clouds, admiring airplanes. But he had to come down to earth occasionally to keep up with the Slide Rule Club and Saber and Stripes. His favorite subject was history, and he will have a chance to continue the study of it next year when he goes to Junior College . . . PURDOM, HAROLD — We hope Harold's nickname, "Purdy Dumb," doesn't refer to the status of his mental capacity. He is very interested in keeping up with all the baseball teams. He was on the Traffic Squad . . . RAGLE, WILLIAM — Buford is quite an athlete—but not the muscle-bound type, as is evidenced by the fact that he was on the first football and basketball teams. He was vice-president of the Keats, treasurer of the Hi-Y, an officer of the Student Council, and captain of the Traffic Squad.

RAMS, BETTY LEE — Lee says that her favorite subject is speech, and that's not hard to believe, in view of her three years in that subject. She was president of the Iotas, a member of the Girl Reserves cabinet, president of her homeroom, representative to the Student Council, and an office assistant. She'll go to K.C.U. . . . RANSDELL, EVELYN JUNE — "Mostly dancing" is Randy's hobby, but making her fingers dance over the keys of the typewriter will be her profession. She will go to either a secretarial school or business college . . . REBER, JOHN ALFRED — Johnny was one of our football lettermen and thus was a member of the Lettermen's Club. He was an Engineer, in the German Club, a member of the Hi-Y, on the Traffic Squad, an usher, and was sergeant-at-arms of the Student Council.

REEDER, WINSTON — Model railroading attracts Winston, but this is hardly a reason for his wanting to be an engineer. He was on the Honor Roll, a member of the Traffic Squad, and was secretary of his homeroom . . . REIMAN, DONALD — Bud tells us that he is one of the many hundreds who intend to go to Junior College. He liked to build model airplanes, and his favorite subject was typing . . . REINHOLDT, MARJORIE — Margie likes to collect sugar cubes and menus from various hotels. We are glad she leaves the towels and silverware. She was another mathematic enthusiast. The Peppy Pirates claimed her as a member, and she tells us that she was vice-president of the freshman Girl Reserves.

REMLEY, MARY MARTHA — Mary Martha definitely has a flair for anything connected with dramatics. She belonged to the Entertainer's Club, and in the near future she intends to take up radio and stage work. As a background for this work, she was in both Pepperades and took part in various assemblies . . . REUTELER, PEGGIE — Here's a girl who actually admits that her hobby is eating, but she will have to watch out for those calories if she attains her ambition of becoming a model. She was vice-president of Thicions, social chairman of Girl Reserves, and was in the A Cappella Choir . . . RICHARDSON, FRED — Fred does very well for himself intellectually, for he was on the Honor Roll, an officer of the National Honor Society, and vice-president of the Slide Rule Club. Also, he was an R.O.T.C. officer, on the Paseon Staff, and on the Traffic Squad. He will attend J.C. next year.

RICKS, ALICE — If you want any information about popular orchestras, just ask Alice. But don't get the idea that she is the jumpy jitterbug type, because she thinks about home-making frequently. She has taken cooking for three years and was vice-president of the Home Economics Club . . . RIPPEL, VIRGINIA — Virginia's honors of being the treasurer for El Ateneo, and secretary for Los Parlantes do not end here, for she was an Iota, a member of the Choral Club, a Health Room assistant, and on both Honor Rolls. She will see many of her friends at J.C. next year . . . ROBB, VIOLET MARY — Vi's tender heart is evidenced by the fact that she wants to be a nurse. Our peppy cheerleader will have to calm down a bit, however, in order to take up hospital training. She kept the minutes for the Zetas, was song leader for El Ateneo, and has been a Student Council representative.

ROBBINS, TRUE — Here's a loyal Pirate (Paseo) who states that although he spent his first year at Westport, he likes our school much better. He is interested in all types of sports and plans to become an aviator. Junior College is his destination . . . ROCKEY, NORMA DELL — Norma has the very mysterious nickname of "Egypt," but she's really quite human. She was an Iota, in the fashion show two years, and was an office assistant. She hopes to go to the Art Institute . . . RODOPOLOUS, JOE ANN — Joe has a very peculiar habit of eating hamburgers at midnight. She liked to watch basketball games and spouted off her enthusiasm for this sport by cheering with the Pep Club. Her favorite subject is bookkeeping.

ROGERS, JOHN LEWIS — If this boy should become adept at his hobby, which is weight lifting, he may prove to be a good understudy for Superman. However, if his strength does not develop abnormally, he will become a linotype operator . . . ROHR, BETTE — It looks as if Bets should take up dress designing as a career, on the basis that she won first prize in the fashion show for two years, second place one year, and was president of the third year clothing class. She was a Thicion and was in the Muir and Auto Clubs . . . ROPE, HERBERT M. — Herb hopes to gain distinction at the Bar—law, of course. He was a member of the Quill and Scroll, the golf team, the Slide Rule Club, and was Associate Editor of this Paseon. Physics—imagine it—proved to be his favorite subject, and he plans to attend M.U. next year.

ROPE, STANLEY — Horace Greeley said, "Go West, young man," so Stan will follow his advice next year when he will enter the University of Arizona to study engineering. He was the reporter for the Radio Club, and was in the Agassiz and Photography Clubs. He was on the Press Staff . . . ROTTMANN, RICHARD W. — Most boys like movies, but Dick is one of the few who really admitted it. Although he liked to scribble at newswriting, he intends to go to a business college. Reading also proved to be one of his hobbies . . . ROWLAND, GENE — Maybe Gene isn't just ca-razy about Spanish, but it does happen to be his favorite subject. He was a member of the Sabers and Stripes, the Hi-Y, and was president of his homeroom. He will go to K.C.U.

ROWSON, RICHARD K. — If Richard continues his favorite subject, chemistry, he may be the one who will be responsible for discovering the ninety-third element. He also likes astronomy; so maybe he will add a little star dust to his researches . . . ROZIER, RUTH — English was one of Timmy's favorite subjects, and this may account for her interest in journalism, which she will take up at Missouri University next year. She was a Peppy Pirate, was in the French Club, on the Honor Roll her freshman year, and held various homeroom offices . . . SAIGHMAN, GLENN — Glenn expects to become a business man, and maybe by the time the next war is on, he will be called to Washington to be a "dollar a year man." He was in the Muir Club, was reporter of his homeroom, and plays an accordion.

SANDBROOK, BETTY JEAN — Here's a girl who intends to become a secretary and keep the boss in order (or vice versa). She was a Pep-Deb and participated in the Pepperades. Second semester she helped Mrs. Neher in typing . . . SANDERS, JUNE — Juni was a peppy Peppy Pirate, but she had occasional serious moods in which she painted and made settings for various school productions. Her hobby is dress designing. Who knows but some day she may be an influential fashion dictator . . . SANDERS, SUSAN — The portals of Teachers College will receive Susie, where she will gain valuable information on how to be the perfect school "marm." She was a Thicion, in both Spanish Clubs, and was on the General Honor Roll.

SCHELLHORN, ROBERT — A laugh a minute—that's what Shell hands out. He was Feature Editor of the Paseon, in the Hi-Y, a Camera Club enthusiast, and a Virgilian member. He will major in business at the University of Missouri next year . . . SCHILLING, RICHARD — If we ever hear Dick sing at the Metropolitan in the near future, we will know that he continued with his favorite subject which is, strangely enough, A Cappella Choir. He will trudge on to Teachers College next year, where he will continue his education . . . SCORE, ROBERT E. — Alabama will see Curly as soon as school is out, where, according to his own hopes, he will earn a living by his wits. He held the office of sergeant-at-arms of the Slide Rule Club, was a member of the Sabers and Stripes, and was a Hi-Y member.

SCOTT, MARTHA RUTH — All who know Scotty will find it difficult to imagine her as a lawyer, but that is what she wants and intends to be. She was vice-president and initiator of the Iotas, and was a Student Council representative. She expects to attend Principia next year to further her education . . . SELLS, DOROTHY MAE — Here is a girl who has strayed from the feminine ranks to really enjoy mathematics and drafting. And look! She intends to become an architect. On the more feminine side, she was a Peppy Pirate, and represented the Home Economics Club as reporter . . . SHABASON, ANNIE HELEN — Although Annie may not be a giantess, she covers a lot of territory. She was a Girl Reserve, Circulation Manager of the Paseon, and has frequently been on the Honor Roll. She will follow the rest of the group of Paseoites to Junior College where she will major in business. After this she hopes to put this knowledge to good use as a secretary.

SHAFFER, JAMES M. — Ah, a musician in our midst! This Engineer played first French horn in the band for three years. When he was not thinking of music, he used up all his spare time playing football and achieving various track honors. His junior year, he was a member of the Executive Board of the Student Council . . . SHANKMAN, HANNA ROSE — This young lady wishes to become a very good secretary, and shorthand proves to be her favorite subject. This vocation doesn't seem to tie her down much, however, as she greatly enjoys engaging in dancing . . . SHAPIRO, ROSE — Rosie's homerooms must have had a lot of faith in her as they trusted her with the position of treasurer on several occasions. Art was her favorite subject, and she helped many times on art projects used by the school.

SHAWGO, SCOTT — According to Scott, his only interest in life is aviation; so with only one thing on his mind, it's fairly safe to assume he won't be the "Corrigan" type . . . SHERIDAN, MARJORIE JUNE — Music played an important part in Margie's life as she has studied it for fourteen years. She was a Cynthian, a member of the Home Economics Club, and accompanist for the Girl Reserves. Her hobby is collecting dolls, and her favorite subject is English. Wheaton will see her next year . . . SHIRK, PATRICIA — Patty's interests along club lines were varied, as she claimed membership in the Choral Club, the Girl Reserves, and the Mask and Wig.

SHOCKLEY, WILLIAM — If we had a ballot to determine "Paseo's ideal clown," it's a good guess that Shock would be unanimously elected. He twirled a baton for the band, was an Engineer, and was in the Mixer Orchestra. He participated in the Pepperade and will study journalism at M.U. next year . . . SHORE, BILL — Bill, intending to be a lawyer, wants all the facts of the case of his history presented, so here goes. He was here only two years, and they were split. He expects to attend U.C.L.A. . . . SHORT, HAROLD L. — Short was president of the Juntos, treasurer of the Student Council last year, song leader of the Hi-Y, and was a basketball letterman. He will attend Graceland College in Lamoni, Iowa, next year.

SHREVE, JIMMY — Jimmy was very athletically inclined, having been on the track team, played basketball, and enjoyed going roller skating, ice-skating, and swimming. He will peer into the mysteries of the human eye as an optometrist. He was a member of the Engineers . . . SIEGEL, ENID — When we consider that Enid's hobby is preparing new foods and decorating them, it is not hard to realize that her favorite subject was foods, which she has studied for three years. She also enjoyed singing in the Girls' Chorus. Tennis and bowling are her hobbies . . . SKOOG, HAROLD — We hope Scrooge hasn't any Scrooge-like qualities, and he proves he hasn't by being in the Keats, Los Parlantes, on the Traffic Squad, and treasurer of his homeroom. He will go to—guess, that's right, Junior College.

SLABOTSKY, GORDON — Gordon was president of the Stamp Club last year and vice-president of the club the year before that; his hobby is stamp collecting and his ambition is to have a stamp store—in other words, we think that he is extremely interested in stamps . . . SMITH, DALE — Rah! Rah! Rah! Dale really deserves this for his splendid work as cheerleader. He was an Engineer, the vice-president of the German Club, secretary of the Slide Rule Club, and a member of the Student Council. He wants to be a chemical engineer and will go from here to Kansas State . . . SMITH, ESTHER JEAN — Esther will become just another Kitty Foyle. But although she will go to a secretarial school and her favorite subject was shorthand, she, however, has not forgotten the domestic side of life, having been a member of the Home Economics Club.

SMITH, MONTA — What people wore in "them thar days" holds its appeal for Monty who is interested in costume designing. She hopes some day to be able to earn her living by this work. She was another Paseo "rooter" who participated in the Pep Club . . . SMITH, NORMAN — Norman is rather minute as to size, but he did all right in keeping the basketball and track teams in order as their manager. He was on the Press Staff, in the band, and Agassiz Club. If he becomes a banker, as he wishes, we hope he can find a cigar small enough for him . . . SMITH, ROBERT HENRY — Here, girls, is your chance to get first-hand information on how to sling a mean egg-beater, as Bob won out over all other opponents on the Cake-Baking Contest last year. He was also numbered in the ranks of the Muir and Mask and Wig Clubs.

SMITH, ROBERT L. — Bob managed to gather together quite a few laurels at Paseo. He was a Junto, sergeant-at-arms of the Student Council, in the Lettermen's Club, and in the Hi-Y. He was on the first team football squad and track team . . . SMITH, TOMMY — Smitty will go to Junior College next year, where he may receive some light on what vocation he will tackle. He may become a secretary of some kind, for his favorite subject was typing. Stamps may also influence his decision, as they are his hobby . . . SNITZ, DON IRVING — Don helped the cause of the "Pirate eleven" many a time and was rewarded a first team letter for his efforts. He was a member of the Lettermen's Club and was on the Traffic Squad for two years. His outside interests include: bowling, golf, tennis, table tennis, and being an Eagle Scout.

SOULE, BETTY JEAN — B.J. has only been here three years, but even so she was an officer of the Cynthians, treasurer of the National Honor Society, vice-president of the Girl Reserves, and was on both Honor Rolls. She will attend Drake University . . . SPAETH, ANNE — Anne thinks cutting figures is more fun! Ice-skating is referred to, of course. However, Sonja Henie need not worry, as Anne plans to settle down and be a nurse. She was a member of the A Cappella Choir . . . STAFFORD, LOIS — Another enrollee for Junior College, Lois refuses to enlighten us as to her plans for the future, so—. She does tell us that art held quite a fascination for her, and she enjoyed the Girl Reserve meetings very much.

STALCUP, DOROTHY LOUISE — Senorita Dorothy, a member of both Spanish Clubs, is sure that this language is her favorite subject. She was a Health Room assistant, on the Press Staff, a member of the Honor Roll, and a Girl Reserve. Her participation in the Pepperade induced her that radio work was her field . . . STARLING, MARSHALL BRYANT — It's not an exaggeration to say that Marsh was "crazy" about bicycling, because he's planning to ride to California on his bike as soon as school is out. He was a member of the Radio, Camera, and Auto Clubs . . . STEIL, PHYLLIS — "Activity" must be Phil's middle name, as she was an officer of the Peppy Pirates, president of the Microscope Club, in the Home Economics and Auto Clubs, and on the Student Council Executive Board. She will continue her activity at Trinity Lutheran Hospital, training to be a nurse.

STEMMONS, SUSAN MARIE — As Susie Q was one of the five girls who ranked highest scholastically in her freshman class, she became a member of the A.A.U.W. girls. She was a consistent member of the Honor Roll, secretary of the Virgilians, and a regular Girl Reserve member . . . STEPHENSON, CHARLES ROBERT — Steve's repertoire of honors includes the Spanish Club, the Mask and Wig and Agassiz Club, the Hi-Y, and a member of the Student Council Executive Board. Sports played an important part in his school life, as he participated actively in many of them. He will go to Baker University . . . STICE, HAZEL JOYCE — Hazel really goes in for enjoyable sports, such as swimming. She also likes to dance, but she will probably pursue some commercial work which requires plenty of typing or shorthand, which were her favorite subjects.

STUESSI, RUSSELL — Russell evidently liked to delve into the past, for his favorite subject was history. He also was interested in stamps, and was a member of the band, but his plans for the future lie along loftier things —aviation . . . SUTTLES, RAY — Ray must really believe in not conversing with strange people, because the only thing he would tell about himself was his nickname, which is Sutt—alias, Susie . . . SWINEHART, MARY RUTH — Mary Ruth is back with us again after being gone for a year, but that does not keep her from being in the "swim" of things, as she officiated in her homeroom as secretary and was a member of the Thicion Literary Society. The University of Kansas will welcome her after graduation.

SWYDEN, EUGENE -- Nig was definitely a man's man. He was captain of the 1940 football team, on the basketball and track teams, and belonged to the Lettermen's Club. His hobby is most naturally, sports, and he is looking forward to a sportscaster's life . . . TANNER, BERNARD — Many honors, and deservedly so, have been bestowed on Bernard during his "term" at Paseo. He was the Major of our R.O.T.C. Battalion, president of the National Honor Society, Business Manager of this Paseon, president of the Slide Rule Club, and had the record of never being off the Highest Honor Roll . . . TATZKO, FREDERICK — "On a bicycle built for two" maybe not for two, but Fred is planning to ride a bicycle to California after school is out. He was a member of the Spanish Club, and bookkeeping was his favorite subject.

TAYLOR, CLYDE A. — Because Clyde wants to become a lawyer, it is easy to understand one of his hobbies, which is speech making. But his other hobby, flower raising, doesn't seem to "tie in," unless he would use this as a form of relaxation. He was on the Traffic Squad . . . TAYLOR, JANE — Scientifically minded, Jane says that astronomy is her hobby. She will go with the wind to the deep South to attend St. Agnes Academy, in Atlanta, Georgia, next year . . . TAYLOR, LOUIS — Louie claims he's undecided as to what school he will attend, but it's a good guess that it will be one that concerns horses in some way, as his hobby is horses, and his favorite subject is horseback riding. He plans to satisfy this desire to be around horses by training to be a veterinarian in the United States Cavalry.

TELLMANN, PEGGY — Although Peggy's favorite subject was art and her hobby was drawing, she will take up secretarial work at Huff's to provide a means of earning her future livelihood. She was president of the Thicions and was a member of the Student Council every year . . . THOMAS, CHARLES — The members of the Slide Rule Club must have had faith in Charles' ability to organize, for he was a member of the Constitution Committee for that group. He was president of his homeroom and a representative to the Student Council. He plans to become an engineer and will continue his studies at Michigan University . . . THOMAS, RYLAND MILLER — Tommy expects to become a big business tycoon (which still sounds like a tropical storm) and will start his training by taking Business Administration at M.U. next year. He was on the football squad.

THOMPSON, RAYMA — Horseback riding seems to take up most of Rayma's spare moments as this is her favorite pastime. She was a Zeta, secretary of her homeroom, and was one of our mighty cheerleaders. Chemistry ranks at the top on her list of subjects, and she plans to use this in her training to become an air hostess . . . TREFZ, EMEGENE — Gene is another lover of horses and dogs, but specifies that they must be inanimate. She has not made up her mind about her career, but will probably carry her art work into the field of fashion. She was a member of the Girl Reserves and German Club . . . TRIPSES, JOHN — John states that his favorite subject is airplanes. We don't get this, but we do know that he intends to make aviation his career. Stamps and books are his hobby.

TUCKER, JEAN — Coming from Southeast last year, Jean quickly made a name for herself here. She was a Zeta, a member of the Camera Club, and a Girl Reserve. She held various homeroom offices, among which were secretary, treasurer, and alternate to the Student Council . . . TULEY, MARY ETHEL — It's easy to understand a girl's liking for collecting recipes and also foods, but does she mean consuming or making them? She was secretary of the Peppy Pirates and Muir Club, and was twice homeroom vice-president and representative to the Student Council . . . VANCE, RICHARD — "Where the tall corn grows," Iowa State College, is Dick's destination for next year. He expects to raise cattle and not corn. He was vice-president of the Engineers and was treasurer of the Spanish Club. Boys' Home Economics was his most interesting subject.

VENELL, MARJORIE JUNE — This modern Atalanta was manager of the Junior Volleyball team. Marj was in the Home Economics Club and expects to be a nurse . . . WALTERS, BRUCE — Bruce really enjoys slinging the bull—er,—ball, for he likes to play baseball. He also likes to study unromantic things such as rocks. He was in the R.O.T.C. and Concert Bands. He will become an engineer . . . WERNER, FRANCIS — Just watch all the jitterbugs sway when Francis gets at the piano and "gives out" with his boogie-woogie playing. R.O.T.C. also interested him and he was an Engineer and on the Traffic Squad . . . WESTFALL, VIRGINIA RUTH — K. C. U. will receive this charming miss who was a Cynthian, vice-president of the senior Girl Reserve Triangle, in both Spanish clubs, and an office assistant . . . WHEELER, JEAN LEATRICE — Jean must have rhythm in her soul, as she played snare drum in the band and wants to be a tap dancer. She will go to K. C. U. Collecting statue horses is her hobby . . . WILLIAMS, JIMMY — Of all the sports for boys, the gridiron held the biggest interest for Jimmy. He doesn't know yet what he will do after he leaves J. C.

WILLIAMS, ROBERT C. — Bob was a member of the Spanish Club. He's undecided as to his career, but he will go to J. C. and then to M. U. The annals of history interested him . . . WILSON, RUTH ELIZABETH — Ruthy liked nothing better than browsing over a good book. She was reporter for the Virgilians, a member of the Radio Club and a Girl Reserve. As to her future—who knows? A least that's what she says . . . WINE, ROY CLAY — Roy's ambition is to be a definite success in the business world. As a good start, he claims that business is his favorite subject. He enjoyed singing in the A Cappella Choir . . . WINKLER, SHIRLEY — In Winkie we have a future Paderewski. She also likes to sing in the A Cappella Choir. Just as a sideline, she spends her time improvising the classics. She was a member of the German Club . . . WINN, MARY — In looking over Mary's questionnaire, we come to the conclusion that she was quite a "jinor." How did she get around to them all! She was a member of the Latin Clubs, the Discussion Club, Girl Reserves, and reporter for the Parliamentary Law and Muir Clubs . . . WOLFSON, RUDOLPH — One in a million, this young man says he uses his head. This should be useful in his chosen profession, medicine, and has placed him on the Highest Honor Roll.

WOOD, DOROTHY — The soft, liquid tones of the Spanish language make it a favorite subject with many students, and Dotty is one of them. She will attend Christian College, Columbia, Missouri. She was on the Student Council . . . WOOD, MARION JANE — Marion's a lucky girl! There's a secretarial job waiting for her when she graduates. She was a Zeta, a Student Council representative, and on the Press Staff . . . WOODLING, HARRY — J. C. will be made brighter by Harry's presence next year. He expects to be an accountant, and he spurts off a lot of steam in his favorite subject, gym . . . WOODMAN, CECILIA — Cecilia came from William Chrisman at the beginning of this year. She was in the Pep Club and like most of the feminine half of our school, she enjoyed dancing . . . WORRINGTON, J. PAUL—Now, don't all run at once, girls, but in Paul we have a future Navy man! And that's not all, he expects to attend Annapolis. He has the worthwhile hobby of saving dimes and was an Eagle Scout . . . PARSHALL, NANCY ANN—New to Paseo this semester, she was a member of the Zetas, the Girl Reserves, and the Sociology Club.

Dear Mary Jane
I've really enjoyed knowing you this year and I'm wishing a swell girl much success + happiness.

"DULCY"

This year the Senior Class presented the very amusing comedy, "Dulcy." All who saw it agreed that they enjoyed it more on the stage than they did when they read it. The cast was as follows: Dulcy, Maudell Hagan; Gordon Smith, her husband, Bernard Tanner; William Parker, her brother, Earl Porter; C. Roger Forbes, the employer of Mr. Smith, Mitchell Friedberg; Mrs. Forbes, Beverly Gott; Angela Forbes, the daughter, Kathryn McElyea; Schuyler Van Dyck, James Corbin; Tom Sterrett, an advertising engineer, Leonard Lapides; Vincent Leach, scenarist, William Shockley; Blair Patterson, Roy Wine.

SENIOR PLAY CAST

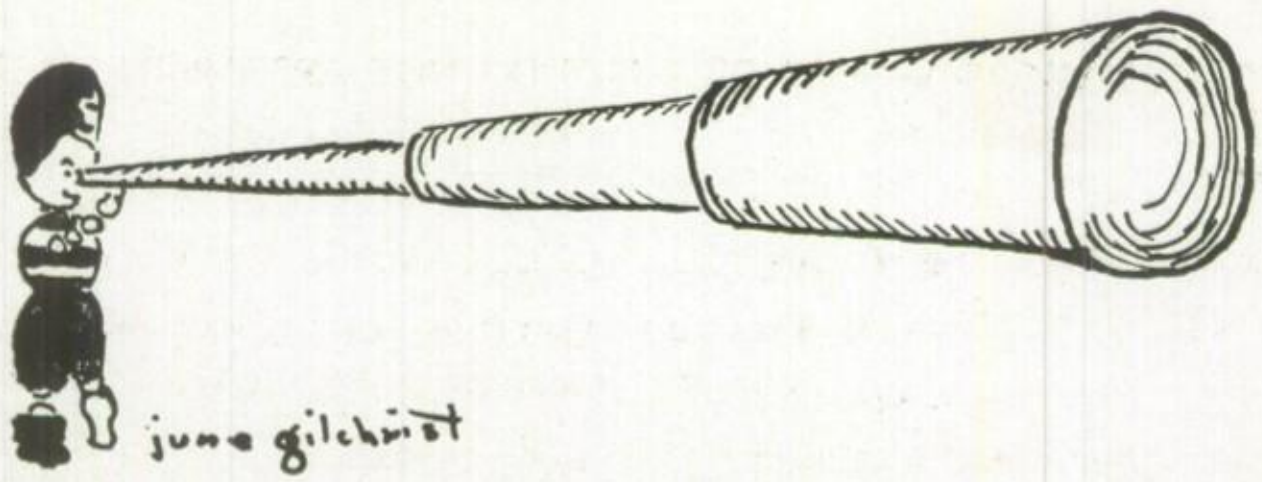
Senior Play Cast



Pirate Jym, Jr., speaking: "Some of you may have doubted some of the things I have done. But here is solid proof that I'm nothing but a whiz-bang. These are the actual facts concerning the lives of Paseo's seniors just 15 years from today.

Fred Richardson is now conducting a "No Seventh Term" campaign. Fred is trying hard to get his friend Tanner a new job. Friend Tanner is now digging ditches for the W.P.A. . . . Charlie Opel and his golden locks have replaced Frank Munn as the golden voice of radio . . . Gene Swyden is still going for those ten-yard gains in basketball . . . Alice Evilsizer is still shooting big, bad crooks. "You dog! %#$&+?" . . . Bob Combs still sends Marion Shields little things like pelicans, teddy bears, etc.; because they remind him so much of her . . . Don Mauntz has turned out to be the long, lanky Don Budge of our generation . . . True Robbins has just left for Capistrano with the swallows.

Lucy Nathan is now going with a six-footer. She started this preference for tall men when she was a stude at Paseo . . . Aileen Foster has consented to be the wife of a minister's son — and boy! are the presses hot trying to keep up with them . . . John Reber is now athletic director at K. U., and he sure is turning out some swell teams . . . Bob Dafforn is still writing "Suzy" all over his books . . . Dottie McCool and Peggie Reuteler are famous models in New York . . . Bill Shockley is now a famous radio comedian. His jokes have gone from corn to syrup . . . Norman Smith is president of the Skyliner's Club. No one under six feet may belong unless he is a friend of Smith's . . . Oscar Leo Freund Kincaid now has his own swing band specializing in roogie-googie rhythm. Pat Shirk is his soloist, and this combination is taking the place of Kay Kyser and Ginny Simms . . . Kathryn McElyea has just retired from a successful stage career. Her last picture was "Gone With the Wind in Her Hair," directed by Bud "David O. Selznick" Lapides . . . Lloyd Monson, third vice-president of the Farmers' "Piggy" Bank, has been elected United States best-dressed man . . . Earl Porter is city editor of the Podunk Weekly Courier, which comes out once a month . . . Betty Ann Breed is still undecided between a bright red convertible and a major's buttons . . . Our two Thomas Clarks are conducting a nation-wide golfing tournament to see who can take Patty Berg out for a date . . . Robert Coleman is now a grand opera singer, but every now and then he breaks out with "I Dream of J....." right in the middle of the Toreador Song.

Bob Peake got his first lesson in machine government during High School Day. He was later apprenticed under MacHaniels. He now runs his own firm, the Ready-Mix Baking Flour Co. . . . After looking at Howard Hassett's senior write-up we think his middle name oughter be Ferdinand . . . Martha Nearing has just been voted the most photographed girl in magazines . . . Jack Doudrick has just completed 12 volumes of famous men in sports . . . Marjorie Ramey has successfully combined a career and a home. She is fashion stylist for Saks Fifth Avenue . . . According to her write-up, Jean Don Carlos is going to be a lap-sitting secretary. Here's hoping you get in the right business, Clayton . . . Johnny Joe Moore is an antique dealer. He still goes around "picking up" rare objects . . . Joe Bob Long has just wrecked his 23rd convertible. They've all been maroon . . . The Maudell Hagen-Beverly Gott team is dancing itself to fame out on the west coast . . . Martha Scott is leading the LaConga chain at the Rainbow Club in New York . . . Harry "Casanova" McGuire is modeling clothes at Jack Henrys.

Kermit Hill is now head photographer for Life Magazine. Nice job, if you can get it. . . Billy Ragle is professor of Psychology at Lindenwood . . . Bob Luder is an international sports authority. He gets letters from women all over the world wanting to know if he is married . . . Dora Ann Freeman is teaching the second graders in Walla-Walla . . . Violet Robb and Janie Griffiths are nurses at Annapolis Naval Academy. The sick list has grown by leaps and bounds . . . After graduating from M.U., Bob Smith has successfully constructed a better mousetrap and the world is now beating a path to his door . . . John Orear is working side by side with friend Tanner . . . As soon as Phil McKeever pays off the mortgage he will be in possession of his own root beer stand at 63rd Street . . . Marian Montgomery has just been hired as food economist for Admiral Richard E. Byrd's next expedition to the North Pole . . . The Lone Ranger has bequeathed his position to Louis Taylor . . . Lynn Alford goes from house to house selling policies. There's no man with endurance like the man who sells insurance . . . Florence Katzeff has replaced the glamourous Dorothy Lamour . . . Bette Rohr and her beautiful smile are modeling for tooth-paste ads . . . Alice Ann Biggerstaff, Nancy Parshall, and Beverly Gardner are designers for Vogue Magazine . . . Virginia Cordry, Zelda Golden, and Wanda Moore have become famous as the "Terrific Trio of Television" . . . Bill Pettit is the Charles Boyer of our day.

Mary Jane I just think you're awfully sweet + precious. All the love + luck I can give it yours.
Love,
Wi.

Pirate Jym, Jr. speaking. I overheard this wonderful document when it was being read in an assembly about the latter part of May. It was so interesting that I thought I'd pass it on to you (in case you were asleep that day and didn't hear it).

We, the graduating Senior Class of Paseo High School, MCMXLI, professing ourselves to be in the right state of mind, although there may be some who doubt it, do hereby state this to be our last will and testament, presented on this twenty-third day of May in the year of Our Lord, nineteen hundred and forty-one. Being of sound mind and pleasing disposition, we wish to leave our most treasured possessions and positions to that fortunate Junior Class.

To Bruce McCormick, Bob Peake leaves his all-round popularity, his leadership, and his personal success. Martha Nearing, the prettiest girl in the Senior Class, bequeathes her good looks to brown-eyed Pat Johnson. Melvin Brown (lucky fellow), receives Bud Lapides' ability to act (with apologies). Marian Montgomery leaves her sparkling personality to Pat Clark, who already has plenty of it.

Off the record: Gene Swyden hands down his over-abundance of scholarship points to Dick Hope, who is in dire need of them. Jackie Hansen's terpsichorean ability (dancing to you) is happily bequeathed to Nova Passantino. Being in a generous mood, we will leave those famous McPherson haircuts to anyone who cares to accept such a great responsibility. Along with this goes the McPherson smile, also famous the world round, which we leave to Darrell Havener.

To Bill Connely, we bequeathe John "Tarzan" Mainey's magnificent physique. Bob Mettes leaves his blond hair and blue eyes to little Willy Watson. Charlie Opel transmits his winning ways to Elwood "Curly" Jones.

To Barbara West, the efficient secretary of the Junior Class, we leave the popularity and leadership of Marion Shields. Allan "Pinky" Stubbs receives Bernard Tanner's R.O.T.C. knowledge of military science and tactics.

To Marcia Rubin, Betty Ann Breed transmits her outstanding scholarship and her ability for success. We leave Bill Shockley's adeptness at twirling and those other things (whatever he calls them) to anybody who has the stamina to take them over. If nobody wants them, we'll just leave Shock. John Orear leaves his good looks to handsome Henry Bulis, and Patty Shirk bequeathes her hour-glass figure to Carol Graham.

Kathryn McElyea leaves her Dentyne, Spearmint, Juicy Fruit, and Adam's Clove to Nadyne Quisenberry, who will make good use of them. The charming smile of Rayma Thompson, is to be left to Barbara Lang. Petite Norma Smith receives Suzy Hawley's shining black hair. Harold Danbury bequeathes his dancing metatarsals to Dick DeKruyff. Brown, brawny Gene Swyden leaves his feats of conquests on the field of athletics to Eddie "Gruesome" Gross. Bob Luder passes on his personality and prestige to Bill Taylor.

Betty Lee Rams leaves her big brown eyes to another Betty Lee—Betty Lee Bowen. Jack O'Neal receives the northern drawl and western walk of Jim Corbin. Beverly Gardner wishes to leave to Alan Imhoff her ability to draw.

To Jimmy Skalitsky, we will Bob Coleman's singing voice. Warren Hyten and Aileen Foster, the best-known couple in the Senior Class, leave their affinity to Bob Carter and Doris Johnson. Lloyd Monson leaves his clothes and his nack of combinations to Wayne Silvius. Lois Leavell leaves her size (meaning height) to little Sally Krehbiel. Fred Richardson gives part of his great intelligence (because he has plenty of it) to Charles "Einstein" Teaney.

We leave the Girl Reserves Presidency, in all good faith, to Roberta Mitzel. To the Junior Boys, we leave the Proctor mansion. Just walk in any time fellows. Oscar Leo Freund Kincaid turns over his hot trumpet to Howard Bormaster. Marjorie Ramey, beloved for her neatness and personal appearance, passes on these qualities to Shirley Otter.

Maudelle Hagan wills her aptness as an actress to junior, Beverly Nemser. Betty Allison receives Charlotte Browning's dancing rhythm. To Warren Grinberg, Mitchell Friedberg leaves his funny jokes.

To the Junior Class as a whole, the Senior Class of 1941 does hereby bequeathe its dignity and charm, its delightful method of getting along with the teachers, its sparkling wit, its various and sundry excuses for being late to class, its mortgage on the second floor steps, the Senior Table in the Cafeteria, its general rights over all other students and its shining geniuses who failed to make the 32 credits and 56 scholarship points.

Dear Mary Jane, It's been grand knowing such a sweet girl. No kidding your kind are scarce. Hope to see you later. your Pal & friend Harold Danbury

The Diary of Pirate Jym, Jr. . . .

SEPTEMBER

I found 1578 studes set for voyage. This is the lowest enrollment in history of Paseo. Mexican Spanish to be taught instead of Castillian Spanish. Very able Traffic Squad gets rolling. First assembly features football and a piano duet with Mr. Crocker and Mr. Jenks. Bob McPherson heads Student Council. The office and health assistants dig in.

OCTOBER

New Pup-Dub Club formed with 200 members. First mixer Oct. 3. DeKruff, Smith, and Taylor chosen as cheerleaders. We won't hear this any more.

> Two bits, four bits, six bits, a dollar,
> Why in the heck don't the cheerleaders holler?

Second outdoor assembly is held — the Northeast "Vikings" down Paseo 7-0. R. O. T. C. band is organized with Peake strutting his stuff as head. Paseon staff is selected with Marion Shields and Bernard Tanner in top positions. Auto Club stages big assembly.

> Miss Eckles, spotting Bob Peake copying furiously off Lucy Nathan's paper: "Well, Bob, how is Lucille coming on with her test?"

NOVEMBER

Freshmen take the tuberculin test—they were entertained by the Entertainers Club. Pirates defeat Westport 13-7. Coach Armour starts shaping up the basketball squad, with Swyden the only returning letterman.

> A man had two sons who had a cattle ranch out West. These sons called the ranch "Focus" because that's where the sun's rays meet. If you don't get it, ask Coach Selvidge because that's one of his favorites.

2000 guests at Open House. Dr. Hunt, our new superintendent, spoke at assembly.

DECEMBER

Film on counterfeiting money is shown at assembly. The Pirate Pepperade, running two nights, proves to be a huge success. City Day is being planned. Marion Shields is Senior President and Bernard Tanner is R. O. T. C. major. Mr. Stephens is in the army now, leading the 110th Engineers Band. "Why the Chimes Rang" is the Christmas play. Vacation, oh boy! Back to school, oh woe!

JANUARY

The Senior Class decides to give a group of eight murals to the school. Basketball season formally opens. P. A. system used for mixer. Senior Class Committees are chosen.

FEBRUARY

Seniors given Tuberculin test. Bob Peake heads Student Council while Leonard Grozow is our orator. Seniors get Aptitude Test grades. Paseon presents gum-chewing, wise-cracking assembly. Hyten is our nominee for the mayor race. Military Ball goes over big. Study halls start community singing.

> As I always say, "Noise is louder than anything" (except maybe your Feature Ed.).

MARCH

Junior Class officers are chosen with Doris Johnson as president. English Department takes the spot-light. Koda-chrome films shown in assembly. Vote for officers for Civic Day and Charles Johnson is named mayor. Paseon sales much, much too low. National Honor Society chosen. Maudell Hagan gets lead in Senior Play.

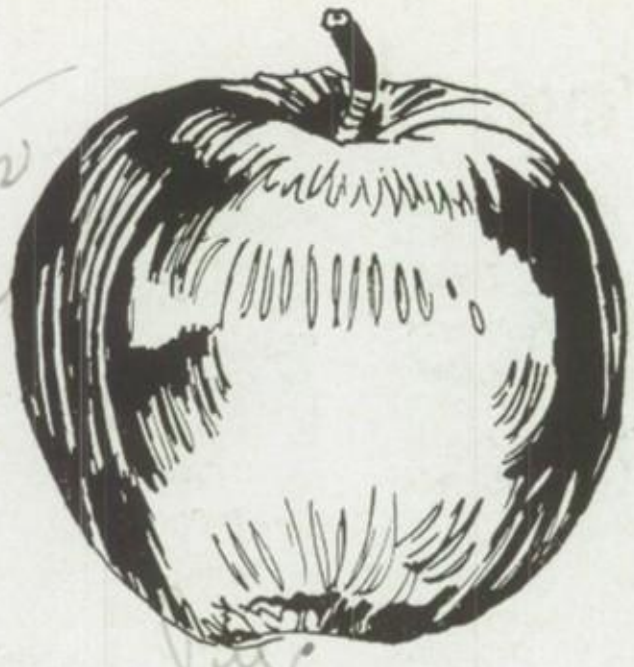
APRIL

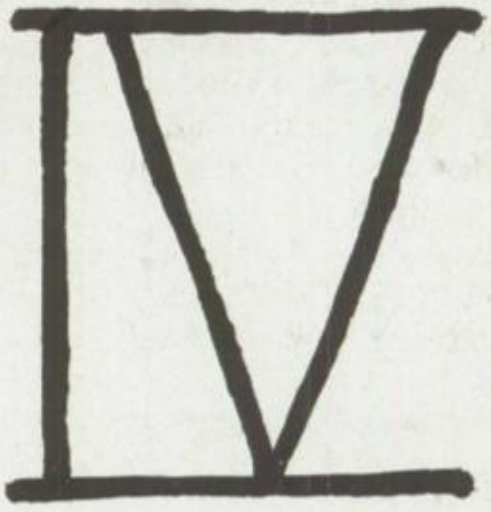
Quill and Scroll elects new members and National Honor Society inducts 48. R. O. T. C. Circus is held. Last day to buy Paseons is April 30, unless you've got $1.50 cash-on-the-barrel-head. Junior-Senior Prom Benefit Shows are held at the Rockhill and the Inter-Society is held on the 25th.

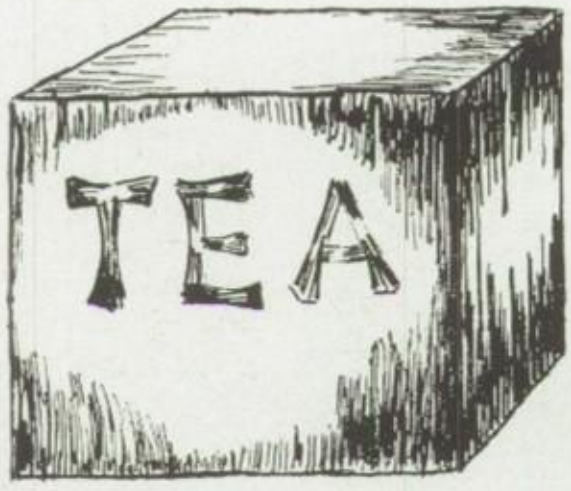
> "Lady, could you give me a quarter to get me where my family is?" pleaded the Freshman who rang the doorbell. "Surely, son. Here's a quarter. Where's your family?" "At the Rockhill Benefit Show."

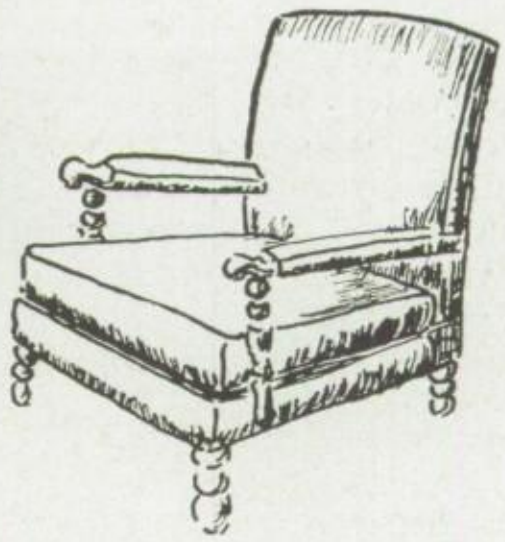
MAY

Rugcutters enjoy free night mixer. "Dulcy," the Senior Play, goes off with a bang! Annuals come out (?) the day before Senior Day. Seniors graduate (another question mark). Goo-bye, a bit of a toot-toot, au-river, Godbe-here, and Remember Who You Are.









Mr. Lortz didn't know it, but I wandered into his room one early morning and ran across this piece of paper on the floor. It was the last one I could find.

Dearest Mary Jane:-

Well sugar, I know you must know by this time how I feel about you, and it gan double now. You are the best friend a girl could ever hope for, and I'm glad that we have such so close this year.

This year has been the happiest one yet, and it's due largly to you and I layd. We're really had the fun times together. You would have to look a long time to find such elegant kids. Mary Jane, I hope our friendship never ceases, because it would be something I could never replace. You are truly a darling girl (and I'm not slinging it) and have the clothes

Dear Mary Jane,

Of course, honey, you know by now how very much I think of you. Commencement is awfully sad and I hate to see everything end so soon but honey I am sure that even though we aren't in the same school we will see a lot of each other - I hope so anyway - Best of luck to you an Floyd and this is to wish one of the sweetest, prettiest girls I know all the happiness she deserves ——

Lots of love
Martha Scott OXO

Dear May Joy.

Here's to one of the grandest girls I know. I hope that you & Floyd will continue to go together forever. I know you'll succeed in anything you undertake.

Love & luck
